Town meetings

The annual series of "grassroots" meetings in which township electors have the opportunity to discuss matters of government which they may wish to bring before their respective Town Boards will be held in the Quad-City area Tuesday.

The meetings are mandated by law on the second Tuesday of each April and usually involve the presentation of the supervisors' annual reports and other financial matters as well as miscellaneous business presented by township residents. The annual town meetings no longer require election of a board of supervisors, a procedure that at one time constituted the major business of town meetings.

An exception in the Quad-City area is Venice Township where both the road budget and the town and general assistance appropriation bills still are presented for confirmation to the electors attending the town meeting in that township. Officials of Nameoki, Chouteau and Granite City now approve town budgets in June.

Venice Township will hold its annual town meetings tomorrow in the Venice City Hall when a meeting for discussion of the road budget of $28,000 will be held at 1:45 p.m., followed by a second meeting at 2 p.m. to consider the town budget and the general assistance fund appropriation totaling $190,000.

Christ Pashoff, Venice township supervisor, announced Friday that the town board has decided to trim the presentation of the supervisors' annual reports and other financial matters as well as miscellaneous business presented by township residents.

Spring fixup

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension

Adviser in Home Economics
Spring is here, and so is "home fixup" time.

Going to give a room new life by painting? If good idea, but remember you may be wasting your money as well as your time—if you buy good paint but fail to prepare the wall surface properly before you put it on.

Even the best paint won't stick to dirty or greasy walls. Nor will it hide large cracks or other marks.

Preparing the surface—cleaning and patching—may take more time than the actual painting, but it is an important part of the job. Check the label on the paint can for any specific preparation instructions.

New plaster walls should be thoroughly cured and then primed before painting. Unpainted plaster picks up dirt easily and is hard to clean. One coat of latex primer or paint will protect it from soil.

For new drywall, a first coat of latex primer or paint is advised. Over this, you can use either old-base or latex paint. Before beginning to paint, inspect old walls for cracks. Fill small hairline cracks with spackling compound.

Use special patching plaster for large cracks, following directions on the container label. When patching is dry, sand it flush.

'Lifetime security' contract

With lifetime job security as a key goal, negotiators of the United Steelworkers and major steel companies reached agreement Friday on a new three-year contract, ratified 193-99 Saturday by presidents of union locals.

An hourly pay increase of 80 cents in six increments was included for 340,000 workers along with an improved pension formula, eye care insurance, bigger layoff payments and new benefits for those forced off their jobs after 20 years' service.

Employees who take their pensions when their work is terminated prior to age 62 are to receive a $300 monthly bonus. A union-management committee will be created to determine steps to improve income guarantees and job security.

Security guarantees—for workers with 20 years on the job—include extending from one to two years, payments to laid-off employees and their sickness-accident benefits and insurance.

The new contract, which succeeds one that will expire June 8, was recommended by retiring President I. W. Abel and president-elect Lloyd McBride.

Edward Sadowski, loser to McBride in this year's nationwide balloting, voiced opposition and there was an initial 142-143 vote to reject the agreement. This was reversed by the 193-99 ratification vote at Washington.

National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel, is one of the firms that participated in the nationwide bargaining, conducted under an experimental negotiating agreement (ENA).

Under ENA, failure to reach an accord by mid-April would have seen national issues referred to binding arbitration. Talks on local-level issues at various plants remain to be completed, and early August strikes are a possibility where such bargaining fails.

The arbitration procedure, on an experimental basis, replaces national strikes, which were blamed by many as causing unemployment.

Past layoffs had been attributed to steel stockpiling (in anticipation of potential nationwide strikes), slumps in orders once agreement had been reached, and increased importation of foreign steel.

While both parties had indicated they saw some positive aspects of arbitration, neither was eager for it this year and

Double voting alleged

Individuals voting more than once—a serious offense—is alleged to have occurred Saturday in the Venice Community Unit School District Three election. No proof has been presented publicly so far.

Four board members were chosen by voters from a field of nine. John Boushaid, a member of the Venice Board of Education, told the Press-Record today that he and Gerald Cicio, a newly-elected board member, believe there was illegal voting at the Eagle Park Acres precinct.

"Our tally shows that up to 32 persons voted more than once and that up to seven persons voted three times," Boushaid said. He added that a poll watcher kept a record of those who participated in the balloting there.

Attorney William Kinder acknowledged meeting today with Earl Hogan, another newly-elected Venice board member.

"I don't want to make any comments on this now," the attorney said. "We have to see

Edward Dewey Melton, 2509 Westmoreland Drive, was elected to a three-year term on the Granite City Board of Education during balloting Saturday and voters also continued the board service of George E. Moore Sr., 1929 St. Clair Ave., and Donald W. Stucke, 1613 Clark Ave.

A moderate turnout of 3,113 voters cast ballots in the Granite City school election, including 144 who cast absentee ballots. There were seven candidates.

Incumbent Frank Eaves, 1659 Fourth St., Madison and newcomer Samuel Joseph Dymas, 1729 Edwardsville Road, Madison, were elected to three-year terms on the Madison Board of Education Saturday.

Richard Zeisset, 1429 Third St., Madison was unopposed for a one-year seat on the board.

The election of Dymas removed incumbent board member Elvers Johnson, 716 Jackson St., Madison from his position on the Madison Board of Education.

Incumbents Jack R. Tolliver, 1250 Klein St., Venice, and Wilbert Glasper, 317 Filmore Ave. Venice, and newcomer Earl W. Hogan, 221 Kerr St., Venice, were elected to three-year terms on the Venice Board of Education Saturday, while Gerald Cicio, 623 Broadway, won a one-year term on that board.

Hogan's victory came at the expense of incumbent Elmer A. Taylor, 632 Broadway, Venice, who failed to gain re-election. Also unsuccessful for three-year terms in Venice were John Henry Williams, 619 Washington, Scott A. Worley, 207 Abbott St., and Mrs. Verla M. Arnold, 119 Booker St.

Mrs. Alvester Salmond, 94 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, was defeated by Cicio for a one-year position.

Tolliver garnered the highest vote total for the three-year Venice board seats with 478 votes, followed by Glasper with 484, Hogan 378, Williams 345, Worley 300, Mrs. Arnold 274 and Taylor, 253.

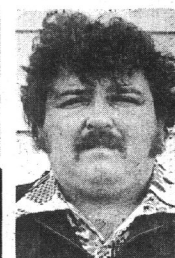

Cicio tallied 672 votes for the one-year board term while Mrs. Salmond collected 313.

Votes were cast at two polling places, the Venice Park District recreation center at Lee Park and in Eagle Park.

Tolliver received 246 votes in 413 candles for this birthday party

For those with 413 candles on hand, let it be known that William Shakespeare's birthday party is being celebrated April 23.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's radio station, WSE-FM, will join other stations throughout the nation in broadcasting a series of programs honoring the bard of Avon during the week of April 19.

NO CAMPAIGN GIFT BY BANK. INTEREST PAID. An article on Page 46 Thursday, April 7, incorrectly credited the First National Bank in Madison with a contribution to the Madison city election campaign. The $206 payment was interest on an account in the bank.

The Press-Record regrets the error. Political donations by banks are prohibited, and none occurred.

There were no unusual exchanges of funds, a spokesman for a group of candidates (mostly incumbent officials) said. Transactions reported to the Madison County Clerk reflected contributions for the April 19 campaign from various political and social clubs.

COUCH FIRE AT STORE

A couch on fire at the rear of Farm Fresh store, 3715 Nameoki Road, apparently caused no damage to the building at 9:10 p.m. Thursday. Firemen were at the scene 15 minutes. No loss was reported.

The programs will explore recent trends in literary criticism with comments by three world-renowned Shakespearean authorities.

"The Singularity of Shakespeare" with Kenneth Muir, chairman of the International Shakespeare Congress and editor of Shakespeare Survey, will be aired April 19.

'Skip' radio phenomenon

By LIL SQUAW

Did you ever turn on your citizen band radio and start to say, "break," and all of a sudden you hear some guy in Tacoma, Wash., casually conversing with someone in Georgia?

That phenomenon is commonly known as "skip."

Skip is a funny thing. It occurs under specific atmospheric conditions. These conditions cause the radio signal to bounce off the atmosphere and come back to earth hundreds, sometimes thousands, of miles away.

You hear some pretty far-away places sometimes. The most common place on channel 5 that skip rolls in from is Texas, although California has been coming in quite lately.

Of course, talking to anyone more than 150 miles away is against Federal Communications Commission regulations. But you can listen all you like.

If you "copy the mail" (listen), you will hear people with colorful handles from

Madison mayor rivalry

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison is seeking re-election April 19 to a new four-year term on the basis of past city accomplishments and future revitalization plans.

Mayor Sasyk, 55, of 1423 Fifth St., initially was elected to the office in a special election in July 1970, defeating an opposing candidate.

He was unopposed in gaining re-election in April 1972.

Feeding efficiency key to farm profits

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Advisor

Madison County hog producers can raise their profits by improving feed efficiency.

Feed efficiency can be increased by 10 per cent if the producer will maintain proper temperatures required by different aged pigs, control parasites and watch for feed wastage due to improper feeder adjustments.

Illinois tests show dampness and cold temperatures are harmful to young pigs. In one test, pigs having access to heated hovers used approximately 0.6 pounds less feed per pound of gain than those not protected by hovers.

Although warm temperatures are beneficial for young pigs, results from an Oklahoma study indicate hot temperatures can affect a breeding herd.

Nineteen of 28 gilts subjected to temperatures above 90 degrees F. settled but had small litters averaging 8.8 pigs.

All gilts kept in a cool environment settled and averaged 12.9 pigs.

Getting two to four more pigs per sow per year will reduce the proportion of sow feed used and that means more money to the producer.

ENERGY-SAVING TIPS

With the high cost of heat bills this past winter, everyone is looking for ways to reduce these bills. Here are some energy-saving tips.

Plant or transplant deciduous trees for shade, especially on the south side of the house. Include more insulation in the walls (6 to 8 inches) and ceiling (8 to 12 inches).

Use double and triple glass in all windows including basement windows.

If you're building a new house, orient the long side with most of the windows to the south. Put your fireplace downstairs and away from the outside wall.

DISPOSE OF SURPLUS PESTICIDES SAFELY

Improper storage and disposal of excess pesticides is the leading factor in accidents related to agricultural pesticides. You can take several steps to avoid such injuries.

Preventing a pesticide surplus is the sure way to eliminate a disposal problem. But that's not always possible.

Pesticides that are in the original container or still in concentrated form may be returned to some manufacturers. Your supplier will know if the manufacturers accept returned surplus.

If you mix to much pesticide for a job or get caught with surplus pesticide mixtures, use this pesticide on other areas with the same pest problem. Spray the extra tank mix or rinse water on these areas.

Dilute small amounts of surplus mixtures and reapply to the treated area.

Take extreme care, especially with herbicides, to insure that the total application rate does not exceed the maximum rate and cause excessive residues. Rates are listed on the pesticide label.

Do not drain surplus pesticides in any location where they can contaminate wells, streams, lakes or ponds.

Federal guidelines recommend disposing of organic pesticides by incineration or by burial in specially designated landfills.

Landfill owners who meet environmental safety standards can obtain supplemental permits to handle toxic waste materials, including pesticides.

Illinois has few designated landfills. To locate the landfill nearest you, contact the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's Division of Land Pollution Control, 220 Church Road, Springfield 62706, or call 217-782-9469.

Illinois Senate is unanimous for Columbia airport

The Illinois Senate last week unanimously adopted a resolution sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, urging President Jimmy Carter and federal officials "to review and reconsider its decision to halt the Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., regional airport project."

The resolution is an emergency response to the U.S. Transportation Department's April 1 reversal of its 1976 decision to construct a major new regional airport in Illinois to serve the entire metropolitan St. Louis region, Sen. Vadalabene explained. Copies of the resolution will be sent not only to President Carter but also to Transportation Secretary Brock Adams and members of the Illinois Congressional delegation in Washington, Sen.

Vadalabene said. "The decision to begin land-banking acreage for the Columbia-Waterloo site was begun only after three decades of debate, study and deliberation," Vadalabene commented. "Now, seven months after final approval was granted by the federal government, the decision is reversed."

"This unfortunate reversal has darkened — if not devastated — hope for a new era of bi-state growth, cooperation and economic upsurge benefitting the citizens of Illinois and Missouri. It's a bitter pill to swallow.

"Abandonment of the project ultimately means the loss of an estimated 33,000 jobs upon completion of the airport, and 5,000 jobs during construction. This is a terrible blow to the economy of Southern Illinois and the entire metropolitan St. Louis area."

"This was a master transportation plan for the future, not a chaotic, unplanned project."

"It is still possible to resurrect the project, and this resolution clearly communicates to federal authorities that the Illinois Senate supports development of a Columbia-Waterloo airport 100 per cent," the local senator concluded.

Ethics plan would disclose all campaign funds, debts, lobbying expenditures and conversion of election gifts

Governor James R. Thompson proposed a government ethics package Thursday to "plug loopholes" and teeth to existing conflict of interest laws, and strip the secrecy from lobbyist spending to influence public officials.

In addition, the governor said he is recommending that the legislature require political candidates to report the source of every penny they raise, or that is raised on their behalf, for campaign purposes.

Concerning conflict of interest, Thompson said he will push for a reorganized seven-member State Board of Ethics with specific statutory direction to review all economic interest statements filed by public officials to determine their completeness and report deficiencies to proper authorities.

The board could also act on public complaints or initiate its own investigations of violations, with the power to conduct hearings and subpoena information.

Present requirements that citizens sign receipts to look at economic interest statements would be repealed, the governor said.

Regarding economic disclosures, filing would be required for public officials who earn $20,000 or more yearly — and below that amount if they are involved in policy-making, handle confidential information, or make decisions related to the spending of public funds.

Exemptions from the $20,000 or more filing requirement would include those in non-policy-making positions, such as teachers and state public officials.

Disclosure requirements would include professional and occupational licenses held, trusts held, or assets placed in trust, regardless of dollar amount.

All economic interest disclosure threshold levels in present disclosure statutes would be lowered by half.

The proposed law would require disclosure of indebtedness of more than $5,000, and the terms.

Gov. Thompson's plan would prohibit lawyer-legislators from practicing before state regulatory agencies or appearing as counsel in any case where the state is a party.

In addition, former legislators and former members or employees of a state regulatory commission would be banned for two years from representing clients before the legislature or a commission on which they served, or lobbying before them.

Violations of the proposed law would be considered Class 4 felonies, and, upon conviction, violators would be fined treble damages.

Under the governor's proposal, no statewide elected official would be permitted to hold outside employment — and no one collecting campaign contributions to run for public office would be allowed to convert campaign funds to personal income.

Turning his attention to lobbyists for special interest groups, Thompson said his plan would expand the Lobbyist Registration Act to mandate registered lobbyists and their employers to report separately all money spent to attempt to influence public officials.

The State Board of Ethics would receive the reports monthly during legislative sessions and quarterly at other times.

Lobbyists also would be required to:

—State prior to appearing before legislative committees or commissions whether they are paid advocates of the group they represent and, if so, whether they have complied with disclosure and registration requirements.

—Limit their spending to no more than $35 per month per public official or employee and their gifts to no more than $50 a year.

Lobbyists who violate these provisions, knowingly would be subject to Class A misdemeanor charges for first offenses and Class 4 felonies for second or subsequent violations.

Authority for administering the revised and expanded Illinois Governmental Ethics

Act would be transferred to the State Board of Ethics, Thompson said.

The Board of Ethics would include four members named by the governor and three by the Illinois Supreme Court, with no more than two named by each appointing authority to come from the same political party.

Members would serve two-year staggered terms, with the chairman elected by the board.

In the area of election reform, the governor proposed revisions in the Illinois Campaign Financing Act intended to close loopholes in current statutes, tighten enforcement of the Act, and disclose more information to voters.

"This program will dispel the clouds of mystery and speculation concerning campaign financing," Thompson forecast.

"It will result in a new election system that is open and accountable to the people — a system that honors and respects this most important area and safeguards it as our most precious right in a democracy."

During his gubernatorial race, Thompson went beyond the state's requirements for disclosure of every contribution over $150 by disclosing all contributions to his campaign every day.

Under the proposed legislation, the $150 limit would be eliminated and committees would be required to disclose every campaign contribution regardless of size.

The bill would also force campaign committees to make updated contributor lists available for public inspection every day as Thompson did during his campaign.

In addition, the bill would make it necessary for any committee created to retire the debt of any candidate to disclose all contributions, as well as any committee created to raise funds for an individual who is considering running for office but who is not actively involved in a campaign.

Filing of financial reports would be more frequent under the proposed law and reports would have to include the total amounts given by an individual.

The bill would also increase penalties for failure to comply with disclosure laws.

Failure to file, or the filing of an incomplete or false report, would result in a fine not to exceed $500 for the first offense.

For the second offense, a fine not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year or both could be imposed.

Any person who agreed to or furthered a false filing could be convicted of a Class 4 felony.

Thompson also indicated his support of House Bill 264, sponsored by Rep. William L. Kemper, R-Joliet, intended to increase efficiency and effectiveness of the State Board of Elections.

Under the bill, the number of board members would be increased to five. They would be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate and would serve staggered two-year terms.

Two members of the board would have to be affiliated with each of the major political parties.

The fifth member, who would serve as chairman, would not have voted in the same party primary or held membership or office in political party for the preceding five years.

The legislation would put employees of the board, other than those with significant policy-making authority, under the state's personnel code.

City again delays franchise passage

A proposed new franchise agreement between Granite City and Illinois Bell Telephone Co. struck another snag last week in a City Council move to place the franchise ordinance on final passage.

It was the third consecutive council session in which final passage of the agreement was postponed to give city officials an opportunity to clarify terms of the bill.

The agreement was placed on first reading in the March 22 council session, but a vote on final passage was delayed when terms concerning replacement of poles or other phone facilities in city easements were questioned.

Although that point was explained satisfactorily in last week's session and a motion was made by Alderman Roy Poulos to place it on final passage, the bill again was held up due to questions over the termination date of the franchise.

A special committee that negotiated the franchise had reported that the franchise was arranged so that franchise terms could be reconsidered at any time. City Attorney George Filcoff said, however, that the agreement was an "open end" arrangement that had no termination date.

Consequently, he said, the city could reopen the agreement for reconsideration, but only concerning terms already in the pact.

The aldermen agreed to refer the agreement back to the city attorney to insert a time limitation on the agreement.

Council members referred to the Traffic Committee a request from a group of residents on Gary Avenue asking that the street not be opened to connect with Maryville Road when the extension of the new roadway is completed.

Patricia Niles, in a letter addressed to Mayor Paul Schuler, said that out of 26 families canvassed along Gary Avenue on the question of connecting with Maryville Road, 25 of them opposed such a connection.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, chairman of the Traffic Committee, said that he did not believe the residents on any street in the area could rightfully petition to keep their streets closed to through traffic because one of the purposes of expanding Maryville Road is to facilitate a better traffic flow.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward suggested that persons who do not want utility poles placed by their houses in the city's street lighting program should notify the Illinois Power Co.

Coleman noted that he knew of a number of instances in which surveying was completed and stakes driven for location of poles before the people made their objections known. Usually, Coleman said, a utility pole is delivered and placed by the stake before the people tell the power company that they do not want a pole at the location.

Council members approved an expense payment of $106 to Victor Koenig, director of the city's Emergency Services and Disaster Agency for attending a meeting of the Illinois Civil Defense Council in Springfield April 15, 16 and 17.

The aldermen approved an expense allowance of $200 for Robert Jackson, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, to attend an operators' convention that will be held in Springfield April 18, 19 and 20.

Also approved was an application for an excavation permit for the Illinois Power Co. The utility is to make five openings on Thirteenth Street from Granite Avenue to McCambridge Avenue for main replacements necessary to a city street improvement project.

Honor founder of Parks air college

Oliver L. Parks, elder statesman of aviation and founder of Parks College of Saint Louis University, will be presented the Fleur-de-Lis Award, Saint Louis University's highest award for outstanding service, during tomorrow's commencement exercises at Parks College, Cahokia, Ill.

Parks, recognized as one of the world's leading exponents of aerospace education, will be receiving the award during the golden anniversary of Parks College. He founded the college on Aug. 1, 1927, two months after Charles Lindbergh's flight to Paris made the St. Louis area a partner in pioneering aviation. An associate of Lindbergh, Amelia Earhart and Jimmy Doolittle, Parks created a college that became the first federally-approved transport and commercial ground and flying school in the country.

Attending to this, the federal government issued Parks Air College its Agency Certificate Number 1. The College trained one out of every 10 pilots delivered to the U.S. Army Air Corps in World War II. Since 1946, it has been one of the 10 colleges of St. Louis University.

Commenting on the presentation of the Fleur-de-Lis, a recognition of "unselfish achievement and service beyond the normal calls of duty," the dean of Parks College, Leon Z. Seltzer, called Oliver Parks "most deserving" and a man of "vision and judgment who brought Parks College far."

Biblical series at St. Peter's

An opportunity to look into the meaning of the stories found in the first five books of the Bible will be afforded area residents the next four Sunday evenings as the Rev. Dr. Walter Brueggemann, professor of Old Testament at Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Groves, Mo., presents a series on "The Deep Stories of Israel's Faith: The Stories Out of the Pentateuch."

All four Sunday evening sessions, beginning April 17, will start at 7 p.m., and will be held at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

The biblical studies are being co-sponsored by the three downtown churches — St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, First Presbyterian Church and Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The three churches, through a task force planning committee, have been offering several cooperative programs for their churches and the community. They just completed a series of six Lenten midweek worship services and plans are being made for vacation church school in June.

Dr. Brueggemann, in addition to his teaching responsibilities, is dean of academic affairs at the seminary. Born in Tilsen, Neb., he studied at Elmhurst College, Eden Seminary, Union Seminary and Heidelberg University in Germany.

His wife, Mary, currently is interim pastor at St. Paul Lutheran Church of Christ in Edwardsville. They have two sons.

Each evening's program will include a presentation by Dr. Brueggemann, an opportunity for questions and discussion, and a coffee fellowship to conclude. "The objective of the four-week study is to help understand the ancient stories in the context of Biblical faith, and to clarify their meaning for our lives and the life of the world in which we live."

Dr. Brueggemann explained.

The public is cordially invited to attend. No advance registration or registration fee is required, he said.

Tri-City will open 1977 car racing season Saturday night

Stock car racing will begin its 1977 season at Tri-City Speedway on Saturday night. The local dirt track will again feature Gateway Auto Racing Association late model stock cars on the half-mile track and sportsman cars on the quarter-mile track.

Highlights of the 25-week scheduled will include a spring spectacular on April 23, an open competition race for late-model stock cars, the American Motorcycle Association spring spindoff Friday, May 23, for AMA cycles, the Miller Cup championship series June 18 and 25, the Fastfall classic series Sept. 3 and 10, and the Gateway Classic Oct. 1.

Open-wheel fans won't be forgotten, as the St. Louis Auto Racing Association midget cars have four events scheduled on the high bank short track leading up to a season finale with twin 35-lap feature races on the half-mile track Sept. 17. Sprint cars will race in 17 events in 1977, featuring open competition racing. This series is expected to draw the top names in sprint-car racing. Races are Wednesday nights June 15, July 13 and Aug. 17, and Saturday, Sept. 24.

Many late-model cars have been constructed during the winter months.

The list includes the defending Tri-City champion, Russ Wallace, defending Gateway Auto Racing Association overall champion, Bill Myers, and Wil Spaulding, Jerry Sifford, C. C. Corbin, Mike Wallace, Sandy Anderson, Kevin Gundaker, Kenny Shrum, Jim Thompson, Kenny Schrader, Mike Barbeau, John Pfister, Bob Bizell, Willie Johnson, Harold Workman, Ron King, Bert Griffin and others.

Visiting drivers expected to compete on a regular basis include Johnny Prior, Centralia; Don Carter, Hillsboro; Gene Melloway, Columbia, Mo.; Joe Campbell, Decatur; Terry Gallagher, Hannibal, Mo.; Ron Fisher, Centralia; Art Lynch, Hillsboro and Butch

McGowan, Hardin, Ill.

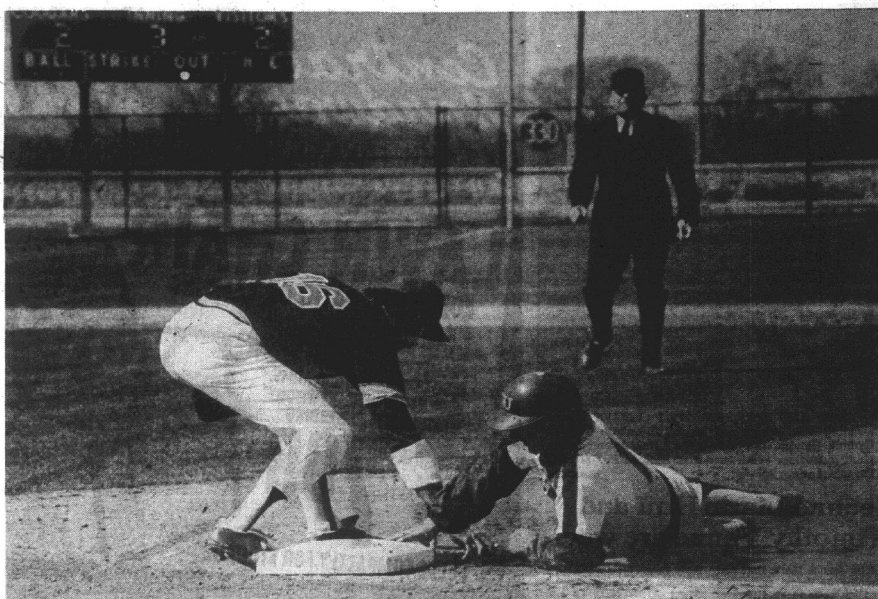

The late-model division includes 21 drivers who have been track champions at various area tracks in recent years.

The list includes: Russ Wallace, Spaulding, Myers, Corbin, Len Gittemeier, Mike Hammerle, Shrum, Sifford, Schrader, Prior, Don Carter, Bob Bizell, Mike Wallace, Lynch, Rod Bailey, Bruce Beasley, Gallagher, Barbeau, Workman, Griffin and Kris Krohn.

Defending champion Krohn, Mike Wallace and Bert Griffin have moved from sportsman cars to the late-model division. This will tighten the sportsman race for Deane Aerne, John Wolfmeier, Bill Reid, Chuck Mijam and Larry Yates.

Sportsman regulars also are looking forward to the return of Gary Barker, Pat Walsh, Gary Wallace and others.

The Gateway Association will continue to use the point-average system this year. Both divisions will qualify on opening night and again on July 2.

Cardinal baseball express bus here

Ten "Red Bird Express" bus routes will be operated to home Cardinal baseball games at Busch Memorial Stadium this season, St. Louis Development Agency Executive Director Robert J. Baer has announced.

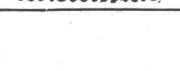

The Express service, which begins with the April 15 home opener against the Pittsburgh Pirates, will be supplemented by over 15 regular local lines to Downtown St. Louis which operates directly to or within walking distance of the stadium.

For the 1977 season, Baer said, two new combined express routes — "Mehville-Affton" and "Alton-Tri-City Red Bird Express" bus will begin at St. Louis via Wood River, Roxana, Mitchell, Granite City and Madison.

The other Red Bird Express routes will be: Belleville North Bell, Belleville Square, Clayton, Crestwood, Hazelwood, Jennings, Riverview and St. Ann. The adult cash fare on all lines is 75 cents plus applicable 10-cent zone charges. Children (12 years old and under) pay 35 cents plus five-cent zone charges. Holders of Bi-State weekly passes pay a 45-cent fare plus applicable zone charges. And senior citizens and handicapped persons possessing Bi-State identification cards may ride for 35 cents plus five-cent zone charges.

The Granite City Park District will hold a softball clinic Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The clinic is for managers as well as umpires.

Ray Hoffman, an ASA Commissioner, will be in charge of the clinic.

At the same time that the softball test is given, a baseball quiz will be given to those boys and men interested in working in the baseball program of the South High defeats Missouri niners by 6-1 and 3-0 scores

The annual visit to GCHS South by two western Missouri schools provided a lot of "goose eggs" for the visitors during the Easter weekend, as first Lee Summit bowed Friday to the South High 6-1 and then Hickman Mills of Kansas City was nipped Saturday by the Warriors, 3-1.

The two-day affair originally was slated as including doubleheaders, but due to an game schedule restriction for each of the two visiting teams, single games only were played.

Lee Summit batters were met by Warrior junior Jim McKee, who picked up his first win of the season in his "rockie" appearance. McKee fanned two and yielded a lone run in the fifth inning.

South, which fielded flawlessly, took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Mike Clark drew a walk. Randy Smith singled and Steve Sedabars singled both home. Clark and Smith had

Errors by Steelers aid visiting squads

GCHS North's host Steelers nine evened its diamond record during the weekend, with wins against six losses, dropping a 5-3 decision Friday to Hickman Mills of Kansas City, Mo., and 6-3 to Lee Summit, Mo., on Saturday.

Hickman pitcher Linn Phillips allowed the Steelers four hits. Four North errors aided the visitors. Hickman scored in the second and a solo homer in the sixth by Mike Newman was followed by three runs in the seventh, offsetting GCHS North's second-frame run and fourth-inning two-run effort.

Steelers Doug Rains started and was relieved in the seventh by Jim Goodyear with the score tied 3-3.

Rains made it home in the second inning, aided by Hickman fielding, when his single turned into a three-base advance on an error. The Steelers scored later when the second baseman mishandled Mike Simpson's ground ball.

Question four in burglary

Two St. Louis youths, ages 17 and 19, were held in the Granite City Jail throughout the weekend and are to be questioned today by police detectives as suspects in a burglary at 3:30 a.m. Friday at Updike's Service Station, Nameoki Road and Venice Avenue.

A young boy on a bicycle told police he saw two youths run from the service station and get into a red Ford parked three houses east of the station. There were two other youths waiting in the car the bicyclist saw.

The car left the scene at a high rate of speed, but the bicyclist gave police a license plate number. Officers found a

Assault driver; six arrested

Six transient workers were arrested after they allegedly yelled obscenities at a driver and one of the men assaulted the driver in front of a police officer at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue at 3:45 p.m. Sunday.

A Granite City policeman reported he was parked at the National Food Store lot at that intersection observing traffic when he saw two pickup trucks, containing three men each, pull behind a car and the six men got out of the trucks and began yelling obscenities at the driver of the car.

One of the men then approached the driver's window of the car and punched the driver, Charles Reisinger, Sorento, Ill., on the face.

The officer and three other police in squad cars converged on the area and arrested the six men.

Tom Miller, 19, Chicago, was charged with battery for allegedly striking Reisinger. Charged with disorderly conduct were James Mitchell, 30, Dayton, Ohio; Lawrence Miller, 21, Atlanta, Ga.; Dan Miller, 23, Cedar Lake, Ind.; Steve Nelson, 18, Eagle Pass, Tex.; and a 16-year-old from Chicago.

They told police they travel across the country doing roofing and driveway repair work and were staying at the FCA Campgrounds in Mitchell.

Shot in foot

Mark Carrio, 23, of 2325 Lincoln Ave., was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:40 a.m. Sunday, suffering a gunshot wound to his left foot.

Police said Carrio told them he and his friend had left a Madison Avenue tavern when a man about 22 years of age shot him in the foot.

Carrio went to his girl friend's home, where he took her to the hospital, he reported. Police were notified by the hospital.

While questioning Carrio at the hospital, the boot he was wearing was taken off his foot and a .32 caliber bullet fell out, officers said.

Youth, juvenile face charge

Richard L. Jones, 17, of 3728 Nameoki Road, was charged with theft and a 14-year-old boy alleged with him when the incident occurred also faces possible juvenile court action.

Officials of K-Mart alleged the two attempted to steal a roll of fencing from behind the K-Mart store on Nameoki Road.

The store manager chased one boy to the Briarcliff Drive area, but lost sight of him. Police were notified and stopped a boy matching the description as the boy was crossing the railroad tracks.

He was questioned and later he and the juvenile boy were charged.

Officer Kostecki resigning from Madison police force

Pete Kostecki, a Madison police officer for the past two and a half years, announced today he will resign from the police department this week.

Kostecki said that after closing the Croatian Home on charge of operating in violation of tavern closing hours at 2:28 a.m. on April 10, he received a verbal reprimand.

"They give you a badge, a gun, a set of laws and tell you to go to a good job, and they they won't let you," Kostecki alleged.

"If I can't do my job right I don't want to work for them. The law as I see it is for everyone, including public officials," Kostecki said.

Past leaders of Chamber to be honored

The Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce is busy putting together details, arranging the entertainment and making sure that Saturday night, April 23, will be an occasion to remember for both men and women of the Chamber and their friends.

"Everyone is invited. Call the Chamber office for reservations," a committee spokesman said.

The event will be held at Sunset Hills Country Club, with a social hour at 6 p.m. and a gourmet dinner at 7, followed by entertainment billed as "A Road Show You Haven't Seen before." The show, which will be dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

"All living past presidents of the chamber will come in for special honors, and we want to make sure that everyone understands that this is a joint function of the Chamber and the Women's Division. Everyone is looking for a good turnout and has hopes of making this fine spring season," the spokesman added.

News notes

President Jimmy Carter has indefinitely postponed further work on the breeder nuclear reactor and on plutonium reprocessing plants, saying he is fearful of nuclear proliferation and atomic black-mail. The supply of U-235 for conventional nuclear generation of electric power may run out by the end of this century. Breeder reactors use the more plentiful U-238 and ultimately produce more fuel than they consume.

A St. Clair County grand jury on Thursday urged that the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois be disbanded, the seven-county police unit specializes in drug-related arrests.

The Illinois Commerce Commission on Friday delayed for a 17.6 per cent general rate increase for the firm's 70,000 Illinois customers, including some in the Quad-Cities.

Lonnie Laster still critical

Lonnie W. Laster, 15, of 219 Wilson Park Lane, who was struck by a northbound Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train March 16, still is in critical condition at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, according to a family spokesman.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laster, he suffered multiple injuries, including several fractured ribs, two broken vertebrae, a probable neck fracture, a head injury, a severed right hand and other wounds. He is still unconscious but did open his eyes a few times last week.

Warriors and Kahoks divide

The baseball Warriors of Granite City High School South made short work Thursday of the visiting Collinsville Kahoks in the first part of a twinnish, winning 11-0 in five innings. But Collinsville bounced back with a 14-3 victory.

Eldon Warfield improved his personal record (3-0) in going the distance, pitching a two-hitter.

The Warriors backed his effort at the plate with seven hits which helped result in a run in the second frame, seven in the third and three in the fourth.

The contest was halted after five innings due to the 10-run lead rule.

John Krekovich led the Warriors batting with four runs batted in on a walk and a triple. Randy Smith and Danny Schaus each collected two hits, and Krekovich and Paul Evans also provided hits.

Ashby one-hitter aids SE nine

To qualify for a post-season Division 11 baseball tournament a member school's team almost has to win at a three out of four rate.

Coach Roy Lee's SUE Cougars, now 11-6 with 24 more games to go, maintained a 3-for-4 pace over the weekend as they split a pair Friday with Indiana State U-Evansville and captured two Saturday from the Kentucky Wesleyan U. Panthers. Both Indiana State and Wesleyan are in contention for a berth in the midstate regional tournament.

On Saturday's first game, the Cougars had to battle from behind to win 9-8 as SUE's veteran shortstop, Dave Schaake of Edwarsville, broke out of a hitting slump and drove in the winning run. He was three for five and drove in two runs.

In the second game, won in a cakewalk by the Cougars, 15-0, behind the one-hitter pitching of Granite City's Steve Ashby, Schaake continued his upsurge in hitting by collecting three safeties in four trips.

The Cougars' co-captain (with Schaake) Mike Brown broke out of his two-game batting slump with Saturday's second game as he had a perfect two-for-two—a pair to triples—and drove in three runs. Steve Novak, a two-for-three in Saturday's first game, broke out of a hitting slump and drove in four hits in the nightcap.

Ashby, looking to start his season as a no-hitter until two games in the final frame. The single by John Powers was a legitimate hit.

Today, the Cougars play the Bears of Washington U. at 3:30. It will be a make-up game. On Friday, it'll be a pair at Evansville U., and then next Sunday it's the game of the year for SUE—the Salukis of SIU at Carbondale will come calling.

Seek youths after auto is damaged

Area police are searching for three youths who allegedly damaged a car and assaulted the driver at Pontoon Road and Sara Street at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Jerry Barnett, 4001 Melrose Ave., and Karen Davis, 17, of 2230 Shirlene Drive, were in a car driving on Johnson Road at Wabash Avenue when three youths threw rocks at the auto, missing it.

The youths followed Barnett to the Shell service station at Pontoon Road and Sara Street, and when Barnett stopped the car, the three got out of an orange 1976 Trans Am Pontiac Firebird and kicked dents in the side of the car, which is owned by the newly-elected supervisor of Nameoki Township, Harold Davis, 2230 Shirlene Drive.

After kicking dents in the car, one youth struck Barnett on the arm with a flat and the three then returned to the Firebird and left west on Pontoon Road, police were told.

Mike Clark drew a walk in the second, followed by a single by Smith and walks to Schaus and Krekovich.

The third frame saw Champion single, Warfield reach base on an error and Evans walk to load the bases.

A walk to Clark forced a run home and two runners scored the plate when Smith hit safely and Schaus clouted a sacrifice fly to right field.

Tim Anderson walked to again load the bags before Krekovich cleared the bases with a triple. He later scored on a sacrifice fly by Tom Henrich.

Evans in the fourth tripled and scored on Clark's single. Clark was retired at second on a fielder's choice which allowed Smith to reach base. Schaus tripled and Anderson reached base on an infield error.

Kahok hurler Don Edson allowed South two runs in the third frame of the second contest before being relieved in the fifth by Rick George, who yielded South one run in that inning.

Collinsville got on the scoreboard with a run in the fourth with Warrior John Lakin on the mound, and added four more in the fifth. Lakin was relieved by Tom Mahl.

The Kahoks scored six runs in the sixth and three in the seventh. Collinsville batters garnered 20 hits to South's eight.

A single by Henchy, a triple by Henrich and a hit by Smith batted in South's third-inning run.

Smith singled in the fifth. Champion doubled and Smith beat the throw to homeplate on a grounder by Evans.

Voting

Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers said today he would be "highly shocked" if it is established that a number of people voted twice. He voiced doubt that it had occurred.

Ballots totaled 904 Saturday — 612 at Precinct One in the Venice School and 292 at Precinct Two, the Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall.

The 292 total included four absentee ballots and 16 spoiled ballots.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By Milton Mathews

Here's an amazing sports question... What major league baseball player never hit a ball in a big league game, never threw a ball, never played in a field and never ran to 2nd, 3rd or home — yet is famous in major league history as a PLAYER? Answer is Eddie Gaedel, the legendary midget who made sports history when he was used as a pinch-hitter in the 1951 season... He came to bat one time, walked on 4 pitches, was taken out for a pinch-runner, and never played on — but his fame lives on.

Oddly enough the man who invented basketball, James Naismith, never got one penny for his invention — even though basketball takes in millions of dollars every year!

How much more accurate are basketball shooters today than in the past? ... Pro players today make, on the average, about 45% of their field goal attempts... Twenty years ago, they averaged about 35% accuracy... And 30 years ago, the average was less than 30% of all field goals tried.

I bet you didn't know...

He was a retired employee of the Imbs Milling Co., Belleville. Mr. Keller was born in Millstadt Township. Births, deaths in sharp rise

Sharp increases in all three categories of vital statistics were reported Friday for March by City Clerk Robert Stevens for the Quad-City area.

Stevens' report shows a total of 99 births during March, up 27 from 72 births in the same month a year ago, and a total of 78 deaths, up 37, or 94 per cent, over the 39 deaths occurring in March 1976.

Four fetals also were reported during March, an increase of 300 per cent over the one fetal occurring in March 1976.

Visitation after 6 p.m. today. The 67 invalidated ballots allegedly were rejected because two trustee candidates received votes on the same line.

These votes should have been counted because all eight of the candidates were running only for the top four total votes and were not running head-to-head against the person on the same line, even though they were in different parties, some officials contend.

Town Clerk Douglas Testor said that when the charges of discovery are filed, he will notify the opponent or opponents of those who filed and then will set a date for the election.

Testor explained both candidates were not to be charged by Saturday's canvass. Testor said state law forbids a trustee to be charged by Saturday's canvass.

For highway commissioner, the incumbent, Albert Bell, lost to Frank Mehlich 1,457 to 1,580. Vote totals for the eight trustee candidates, verified by the canvass, were: Norman Hessler 1,578; W. Lee Adams 1,527; Jerry Adams, 1,499; and James H. Hawkins, tied at 1,491; Boyer 1,486; Kenneth Gieson 1,436; and Harlan Pervan 1,364.

Break ground Wednesday for expansion of hospital

Groundbreaking ceremonies will take place at 1 p.m. Wednesday for an $11 million renovation and new construction program at the St. Elizabeth Hospital complex.

The public is invited to attend the groundbreaking celebration on the visitors' parking lot at the hospital.

Those attending will be treated to musical excerpts from "Godepeli," performed by the entire cast of the jubilation, soft-rock musical now appearing at the Plantation Dinner Theater in St. Louis county.

Today and tomorrow, 1,100 hospital associates (employees) are busily signing these special shovels to be kept as mementos of the occasion.

As the ceremony gets under way, the employees will launch hundreds of colored balloons. Each balloon sent aloft will have a postcard attached, reading the finder to return the card.

A hospital spokesman said the envelope having a postcard returned from the farthest point will receive a commemorative prize.

Three long-service employees at St. Elizabeth Hospital will have the honor of wielding shovels at the groundbreaking ceremony.

The trio includes Sister Marce, a semi-retired registered nurse who has been at the hospital for 30 years, Paul Hopper, head of hospital maintenance, and Eileen Reeves, a registered nurse in the Sixth Floor, Doctor's Wing, both 25-year employees.

Sister Isadore Lennon of St.

John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis County, chairman of the St. Elizabeth Hospital governing board, will be the principal speaker at the groundbreaking.

Remarks also will be made by Sister Mary Thomas, St. Elizabeth Hospital president, and Dr. Robert D. Blankenship, chairman of the hospital's medical staff.

A portable stage and sound system are being set up for the event. Should inclement weather occur, the celebration will be held inside the hospital building in the out-patient area.

Soil dug during the groundbreaking will be placed in pots in which flowers will be planted. As we watch the flowers grow, we also will watch progress grow on the new building, the spokesman said.

The hearing to update

Urges 'update' on nursing home plan

Granite City Council members on developments in a proposal to build a 176-bed nursing home on Mockingbird lane were urged by Alderman Sam Whitmer to update the plan.

At that time, Jerry Maeras of Madison, developer of the nursing home project, said the original application filed through the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, had been withdrawn in favor of filing its application under a different phase of the state law which did not require a public hearing.

As long as the city is going to be involved in this plan, I think we should get together with the developers and find out just what the plan is, Whitmer told the council members.

The proposal has been approved by Granite City officials who have accepted the plan and the agreement under which the nursing home complex would revert to the city after the $17 million estimated cost of the project is repaid.

Further hearings to update the plan's most recent developments after he appeared at the City Hall on March 10 to attend a public hearing on the project called by the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, "only to be told that the hearing had been canceled because the developers of the nursing home decided to take a different route."

The hearing to which Whitmer referred was cancelled the afternoon of March 10, a few hours before the hearing was scheduled to be held, because of a revision of procedures instituted by the developers in a move to obtain required state permits for the nursing home construction.

Two treated here

Vince Hathman, 17, and Michael Mullarky, 17, both of St. Louis, were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of injuries reportedly received in a disturbance at a tavern north of Granite City early Saturday morning.

Hathman was treated for abrasions to the chin and face and released. Mullarky suffered abrasions to the neck, face and was transferred to Christian Northeast Hospital, St. Louis.

and searching the youth, two packages of incense from the store fell from his shirt pocket.

The pocket was checked and a bag containing marijuana was found inside, it was alleged.

Police searched the building for an accomplice, but none was found and officers believe the youth was acting alone in the burglary.

A large radio and other items were scattered on the floor. They said that when they were preparing the youth to be placed in a jail cell, they discovered a hypodermic syringe in one of his boots.

He was taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home at Edwardsville to await a hearing on the charges of burglary, possession of cannabis and of a hypodermic syringe, and a curfew violation.

Nameeki vote unchanged; drawing to break tie

While a drawing is set for tomorrow night to resolve a tie between two candidates for trustee of Nameeki Township, four candidates already have announced they intend to file the necessary forms today to call for a discovery of the election results to review the results of the township election held Tuesday.

Supervisor Louis Whittell, Tax Collector Richard Peck, and candidates Loren Madison and Joseph Boyer all have announced they plan to file the necessary forms today to call for a discovery of the election results to review the results of the township election held Tuesday.

The discovery process will not affect the outcome of the election, but will give defeated candidates an opportunity to collect data with which they then can file a suit in Madison County Circuit Court challenging the outcome of the election, if they decide to do so.

The discovery and court process may decide a tie between Helen Hawkins and Andy Besserman for the fourth trustee position.

Each received 1,491 votes for trustee and that figure was not changed by Saturday's canvass.

Bubblemasters change meetings to Tuesdays

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club will start its spring-summer meeting scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

Club members convene on Sundays at the GC Civil Defense Building during the fall and winter months, moving to week-night sessions at the YMCA in April to avoid conflicting with weekend diving activities, Phil Lamm, president, explained.

Persons interested in diving, whether wishing to learn the sport or already qualified divers, are invited to attend Tuesday night's meeting.

A special screening is planned of underwater color movies taken by Dee Adams, a club member, while diving last month near French Key, off the Florida Keys.

Also to be finalized are preparations for the Midwest Dive Council's annual spring dive April 30 and May 1 at Highway 13 Boat Dock on Table Rock Lake, Mo.

The event will be sponsored this year by the Granite City Bubblemasters.

Between 130 and 150 divers and their families from several Midwestern states are expected to attend the season's first major dive, according to Lamm.

The MDG dive usually takes place the first full weekend in May, Lamm said. This year, the event has been advanced due to Mother's Day falling the following weekend.

Later GI Bill school checks

A change in GI Bill payment procedures, effective June 1, will bring checks at the end of the month rather than at the beginning to 1.5 million veterans, dependants and service members enrolled in Veterans Administration education programs.

These and other changes are explained in a "stuffer" being sent with April and May checks, the VA reports.

Another June 1 change, brought about by law, modifies an arrangement which in the past automatically gave trainees a two-month money advance at the start of school.

Ending of the pre-payment system will have the most noticeable effect on veteran-students continuously enrolled this summer.

They will receive their last VA check under the pre-payment system on May 1, covering enrollment for May.

The next check, covering June enrollment, will be issued July 1. Subsequent VA checks will follow each additional month of enrollment.

A student whose enrollment ends in June will receive the payment for June on July 1.

The modified advance payment procedure permits advance payment at the beginning of a school term for the first month or partial month, plus the following month, only if the student makes a written request and the school agrees to process the advance payment.

WITHOUT PEOPLE, EVENTS COULD NOT MAKE HISTORY

Ever since St. Elizabeth Hospital served its first patient in 1904, people have caused its long history in health care to unfold.

People like Father Peter Kaenders, Sisters Pascal Teves and Bonaventure Bierman and all the Sisters of Divine Providence, Doctors R. W. Binney and L. C. Harlan, as well as nameless others, have left their imprints in the foundation of our community hospital.

On APRIL 13, 1977, St. Elizabeth Hospital will add another chapter to its literature. A groundbreaking celebration marking the beginning of its multi-million dollar construction project will take place at 1 P.M. on the main parking area.

Someday this part of the present will be recorded in the annals of the development of our hospital and the description might well read "A throng of people gathered today to hear singing and speaking that commemorated the expansion of our local medical complex. A musical visit by the Plantation Dinner Theatre "Godspell" cast highlighted the special event . . ."

History is happening in your town. You can be a part of it. Won't you please join us?

Commission hears scholarship details

Applications for scholarships from the Joseph Gonzalez Memorial Scholarship Fund presently can be obtained in the counselors' offices at both Granite City High School South and North. It was announced at last week's meeting of the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City.

Students wishing to apply for a scholarship, amounting now to $600 each, should ask for a Granite City Scholarship Foundation form. Robert Robles, commission chairman for the scholarship fund, reported.

Deadline for completing and returning the applications to school is 12 noon on April 30, Robles said.

He noted that applications are rejected if the form is incomplete, or if a student states he wishes to attend a trade school not accredited through a college or four-year university.

In other business at the meeting, four new members were accepted into the club. They are Julie Barnes, Kathy Lancaster, Jim Fensterman and Jimmy D. Harris.

Prospective members, whose applications were introduced, are Tony Petrillo, Sarita Garcia, Jim Stockton and Carl Benson.

Earl Warnhoff was appointed new membership chairman for the commission.

Plans were announced by Miss Lisa Garcia for an Easter egg hunt for the children of members, held Saturday. Also reviewed were preparations being made for the annual "Cinco de Mayo" fiesta, scheduled May 14, at 8 p.m. at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

Joe Valencia is in charge of the 1977 fiesta program. Mexican food and setups will be available.

Music for dancing will be played by Los Hermanos Santacruz. Tickets cost $2.50 in advance and $3 at the door. Children's tickets at $1.50 each may be purchased at the door.

Following the meeting at the Mexican Commission's hall, 1801 Spruce St., Mrs. Dorothy Robles and Mrs. Ofelia Antoff served refreshments.

Forums on education of handicapped

The Illinois Office of Education will conduct six public hearings from April 26 to May 13 on a proposed state plan governing education of handicapped children.

The hearings are part of a process that allows interested persons first to review the proposal and then to offer testimony for possible inclusion in the final version of the plan. Copies of the proposed plan will be available for review, starting April 15, at IOE offices in Springfield, Chicago, DeKalb, Urbana and Mt. Vernon.

Basically, the state plan sets forth policies and procedures for implementing during the 1977-78 school year the federal Education of the Handicapped Act.

The thrust of that federal law is to assure that all of the nation's eight million handicapped children have available to them a free, appropriate education with services designed to meet their unique needs.

The federal act defines handicapped children as the mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, speech impaired, visually handicapped, seriously emotionally disturbed, or orthopedically impaired, and specific learning disabilities. Elements of the Illinois plan include individualized education programs, procedural safeguards, least restrictive environment, and child identification.

Individualized education programs are plans for each handicapped child covering performance, goals, services to be provided and extent of participation in regular education programs.

Procedural safeguards deal with notices to parents and guardians prior to taking action based on an evaluation of a child.

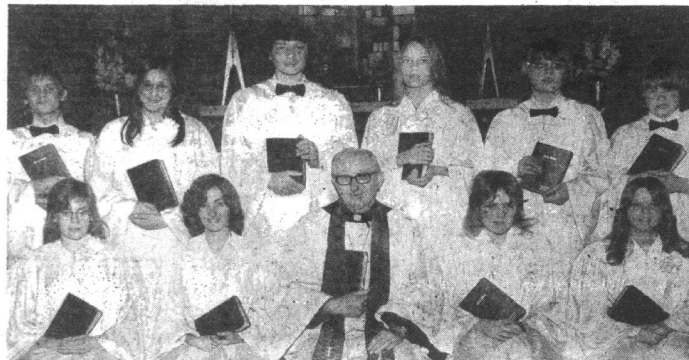

Least restrictive environment is the phrase used to describe the requirement that each handicapped child be educated with non-handicapped children to the maximum extent appropriate.

Child identification means the procedures for finding out which handicapped children are not presently being served by programs. Illinois currently serves about 220,000 handicapped children.

The schedule of hearing dates and locations is:

- April 26 at Springfield (Illinois Office of Education, 100 N. 1st St.)
 - May 4 at Mt. Vernon (Illinois Office of Education, 2nd Floor, 601 N. 18th)
 - May 5 at Urbana (Travel Lodge, 2408 N. Cunningham)
 - May 9 at Moline (Holiday Inn, Room B, Airport Junction)
 - May 10 at DeKalb (Notre Dame School, Special Education Complex, 405 Gurley)
 - May 13 at Crestwood (Hale School, 135th St. and Long Ave.)
- The hearings will run from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Persons may schedule their testimony by contacting the appropriate regional office of the state education agency. Oral testimony cannot exceed 10 minutes.

A copy must be submitted in writing to either the regional office representative or to Jim Stowell, Department of Specialized Education Services, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield, Ill. 62777. All written testimony must be received by May 15. Regional office addresses

Railroad relocation fund urged

In testimony before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, Congressman Price (D-23rd-Ill.) last week urged the appropriation of additional funds for an East St. Louis rail relocation demonstration project, $80.4 million had been authorized for 18 demonstration projects throughout the country and Price requested that the full amount be appropriated.

The local congressman said that rail-highway conflicts present a serious hazard to motorists.

Preliminary engineering studies have recommended that seven grade separations be constructed to eliminate the dangers of at-grade conflict, particularly along the 21st Street corridor.

The rail-highway demonstration project is closely associated with the Federal Railway Administration's rail restructuring program, he said. Currently, studies are under way to improve the efficiency of terminal rail facilities.

The Federal Highway Administration and the Federal Railway Administration are working together to try and eliminate as many rail-auto crossings as possible and maintain an efficient rail operation.

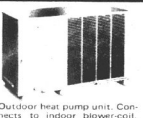

The projected estimated cost for the rail-highway demonstration project is $25 million. Cong. Price said that full funding for the demonstration projects would make a major contribution to highway traffic safety.

City Treasurer Hoekstra faces Jim Riskovsky

JAMES RISKOVSKY

HILBERT HOEKSTRA

James Riskovsky is campaigning in the City of Madison for the office of city treasurer.

He says his motto, "a man who cares about people and the future of Madison," speaks for itself.

He is concerned about the welfare of his community and wants to help taxpayers know just where and how their money is being spent, he has told the Press-Record.

The candidate says of himself, "Riskovsky is an independent thinker and will be running on an independent ballot. Being a lifelong resident of Madison, he is quite familiar with the affairs of the city and realizes the problems which it faces."

Riskovsky is quite active in his community. He has served on the Madison Park and Recreation Board for the last five years, having served as secretary one year.

"He has served as president of the Madison Junior High School Band Parents Club and presently is on the advisory committee for the Board of Education."

"Riskovsky is also heavily involved in the work of the Lions, a humanitarian service organization, and is a member of the Madison Lions Club."

"He is responsible for organizing the newly-formed Granite City Lions Club, and at present is a deputy district governor of District 1-G and is a candidate for governor in 1977-78."

The candidate owns and operates Riskovsky's Automotive Engineering, 1300 State St., Madison.

He is 36 years old, married and the father of Jimmy, age 15, and Judy, 13.

He is a lifelong resident of Madison, having attended Madison schools and is a graduate of Rankin Trade School.

He opened his first garage at the age of 15. As president of the Madison Junior High School Band Parents Club he helped raise enough money to purchase new uniforms, "after 10 years of unsuccessful attempts."

He has been an instructor at Belleville Area College.

He has served the Lions on the district level for the past three years.

The Granite City Lions Club is the first Lions Club to be organized in Illinois this year.

He also laid groundwork for the first Leo Club to be organized in District 1-G, the Madison Leo Club.

Riskovsky "enjoys helping others and gets self-satisfaction from being able to serve the community in these various capacities."

"Should I be elected as Madison's city treasurer, I hope to be able to get people involved and interested in their community."

"It's time to get some new blood and new ideas in the city, and urge all registered voters to get out and cast their ballot on April 19."

By letter, he has requested the backing of all Madison aldermen.

"My reason for selecting this position is quite obvious due to the interests I have invested in the City of Madison."

"Two years ago, I constructed a new business in the City of Madison which I could have built in Granite City, Pontoon Beach or any other

Estimated taxes due

Individuals who do not have enough taxes withheld are required to pay their first installment of estimated 1977 federal income taxes no later than Friday, April 15, the Internal Revenue Service pointed out today.

Many taxpayers realize that they must meet the requirement for filing a tax declaration at this time of year, according to the IRS.

Generally, when taxpayers will owe the IRS more than $100 not covered by withholding, they should file a declaration of estimated tax. A Form 1040-ES voucher must accompany the first installment.

Taxpayers who filed a declaration of estimated tax last year should have received in the mail an estimated tax package, which includes four declaration vouchers and pre-addressed envelopes for making the 1977 declaration and payments. Also included in the package are a worksheet and instructions.

Taxpayers who are required to file, and did not receive an estimated tax package in the mail, can obtain it from an IRS office.

IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," is available free from the IRS and provides more details on the payment of estimated tax.

Kaskaskia chairman backs Alton project

The chairman of the Kaskaskia Industrial Development Corporation testified last week before the U.S. House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works on behalf of Alton Locks and Dam 26 and the Kaskaskia Navigation Project.

The chairman, Albert A. Wilson of New Athens, told subcommittee members he "cannot stress too strongly the necessity of a new lock" (at Alton).

In addition, he said the "lower reaches of the Kaskaskia can become a tremendous industrial complex" through successful completion of the navigation project.

Rep. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) made the arrangements for Wilson to appear before the subcommittee.

Price has been instrumental in helping the KIDC obtain federal money for the project, and also has sponsored a bill to authorize construction of new locks and a new dam.

Wilson's testimony before the subcommittee will be used in the determination of public works funding allocations for the 1977 fiscal year.

Price said he agreed with Wilson's recommendations to the committee.

"Alton Locks and Dam 26 and the Kaskaskia Navigation Project are extremely important for our area and the rest of the nation," Price said.

"Locks and Dam 26 is a key point in the Mississippi River navigation system, which is a major conduit for both coal and farm products. And the Kaskaskia facility can move 96,000 tons of coal per day to help meet our nation's growing energy requirements."

Estimated total cost of the navigation project is $119,600,000 with $112 million of that total coming from federal funds.

Marshall picked as marshal

It will be Marshall Marshall for the Southern District of Illinois, including this community.

Harry H. Marshall of Springfield was recommended Friday by U.S. Senator Adlai E. Stevenson for the position of U.S. marshal. Such appointments are made by the President.

Marshall, 55, has served as deputy marshal for the past 15 years. Before then, he was a Sangamon County deputy sheriff three years. He will succeed Carl Slayback of Bloomington.

A Stevenson aide said no recommendation will be made until late spring for a new U.S. attorney serving this district, based in Springfield. Richard Durbin of Springfield, one of the three under consideration, has declined.

At least two Madison County judges have been on potential lists for the federal prosecutor post.

Sgt. Melton is aiding airborne radar defense

U.S. Air Force Sergeant Richard E. Melton, son of Mrs. Betty Melton of Granite City, is a member of a unit which has acquired the newest airborne defense system in the Air Force inventory.

Sgt. Melton is a jet engine mechanic with the 552nd Airborne Warning and Control Wing at Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, Okla., whose air crews fly the E-3A aircraft.

The E-3A Airborne Warning and Control Systems is a modified Boeing 707 designed for airborne radar surveillance and control. Airborne radar, unlike ground radar, is not restricted by the earth's curvature, terrain and weather.

The aircraft provides total coverage of air activities, and prevents low-flying aircraft from slipping undetected into an airspace under surveillance.

Except for the large rotating dome, which resembles a "piggyback" flying saucer, the E-3A looks the same as any other Boeing 707 airliner.

In addition to the military mission, the aircraft can be used to direct air traffic during disaster operations and monitor sea lanes for intrusions of the United States 200-mile fishing limit.

The Sergeant is a 1969 graduate of Edwardsville High School. His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boccassoni of Edwardsville.

Propose to exempt production machinery from state sales tax

Two business tax incentive bills, drafted by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, were introduced in the Illinois General Assembly Friday.

The growth incentive measures are part of a newly announced multiphase economic development program of the statewide business organization.

The program is aimed at improving the state's business climate; increasing employment; making Illinois more competitive with other states; encouraging existing businesses to expand in Illinois; and attracting new firms.

Descriptions of the measures follow:

A bill to exempt industrial capital goods (production machinery) from the state sales tax, sponsored by Sen. Robert J. Egan (D-Chicago), would eliminate the penalty on investments for the production of manufactured goods.

The penalty occurs when a sales tax is paid by the manufacturer. The cost of finished goods to the consumer is, in effect, increased to cover tax costs of this type. In effect, a double tax is being charged the consumer, it is contended.

Another measure would revise Illinois income tax apportionment to favor firms headquartered in Illinois. Sponsors are Senators Sam C. Maragos (D-Chicago), Richard A. Walsh (R-Chicago) and Egan. Industrial states such as Illinois need this incentive to compensate for relatively high labor and manufacturing costs, they assert.

"Both of these measures are among those used heavily by other states to provide commerce and industry with a favorable economic environment," said State Chamber President Lester W. Brann Jr. "It's high time Illinois followed suit."

He said, "Both bills would encourage Illinois firms to expand employment, locate their interstate headquarters here, and increase capital purchases — which would also be reflected in increased employment."

"The initial startup cost impact on state revenues would be quickly converted into a broadened tax base for the state because of increased sales, purchases and employment."

"Tax incentives are a direct and positive means of establishing and maintaining a flourishing business environment," Brann added. "These measures address important aspects of keeping Illinois competitive with other leading industrial states."

Top egg collectors in GC Park District hunt

Small hunters of Easter eggs found many eggs and received prizes in the contest sponsored Saturday by the Granite City Park District.

Unlike most area hunts, the park district's annual search for the "golden" eggs, as well as the candy variety, took place inside at the Wilson Park rink pavilion, where straw was strewn about the floor to adequately hide the eggs from the youthful hunters.

Product liability revision endorsed

"The Illinois General Assembly has taken a giant step toward insuring economic stability and prosperity for the state," commented Louis H.T. Dehnlow on the introduction of the Illinois Product Liability Act.

He is chairman of the Illinois Product Liability Task Force, which represents over 15,000 wholesaler-distributors in the state who want to see "common sense and equity restored" into product liability law.

"The Task Force congratulates Senator Bradley M. Glass (R), Northfield, sponsor of Senate Bill 475, Elmhurst, sponsors of the House Bill 1333," Dehnlow said.

"The bipartisan sponsorship of this urgently needed legislation demonstrates the responsiveness of our elected officials in Springfield to the needs of all people of Illinois."

"Consumers, workers, businessmen, the legal profession, insurance companies and injured persons will all benefit from these two bills," he added.

"Due to the rapid increase in unpredictable and unlimited in-court and out-of-court settlements, insurance companies have had to impose huge premium cost increases on all businesses."

"These costs are particularly damaging to, if not totally destructive of, small businesses. Small businessmen have only three alternatives," observed Dehnlow, owner-manager of several chemicals and plastics distribution businesses. "We can pay the higher premiums, which can make consumer prices so high that we are forced out of business; we can run 'bare' without insurance and wait for a lawsuit that will put us out of business; or we can shut down our plants and go out of business now."

He asserts that such costs are particularly unjust to a distributor who only adds the values of time, place and possession to a product.

"It is unfair to hit the distributor with 100 per cent of the liability when he has contributed only about 15 per cent of the product's value — and it is actually only marketing value," he said.

"How can a distributor cause a product defect by the marketing functions of transporting it from one shipping platform to another? Or by storing it in his warehouse?"

"Or by extending credit to his customers? Or by transferring title?"

"Would you hold a bartender fully liable for the cancer his customer supposedly develops from the red dye 3 in the cherries in his Manhattan cocktail? It doesn't make sense to hold anyone liable for something beyond his control."

The Illinois Product Liability Task Force will sponsor an afternoon briefing in Springfield on Wednesday, May 25, titled, "What is Being Done and What You Can Do About the Product Liability Crisis in Illinois."

The briefing will be held at The Forum Hotel, 700 E. Adams St., 2:30 to 5 p.m., followed by a reception starting at 5:30 p.m. at the Sangamo Club, 227 E. Adams.

The briefing is open to the public. Illinois businessmen are being invited to send company representatives to the briefing. Members of the Illinois legislature also will be invited to the reception by their constituents.

WAITING FOR THE CATCH. Three youngsters in the 5 and 6-year-old age group wait for a falling Easter egg which was knocked down from the fork in the tree just above the egg during the annual egg hunt in Venice. The hunt, sponsored by the Venice Park District, was held Friday in Lee Park adjacent to the district's offices and recreation center. Hiding places for the brightly-colored eggs became more difficult to find as the age groups of the hunters progressed from one to 10 years old. (Press-Record Photo)

Improper insurance licensing

Illinois Director of Insurance Richard L. Mathias today announced that a Missouri-based life insurance company operating in Illinois has been assessed a civil forfeiture of $25,000 for improper agent licensing practices.

Mathias said, "This is the largest fine of its type ever assessed by the Illinois Department. I trust all insurance companies now understand I will be very tough on any company using improperly licensed agents."

The fine was levied against The Reliable Life Insurance Company of Webster Groves, Mo., after a Department of Insurance performance examination revealed that of the 220 agent files reviewed, 24.1 per cent were unlicensed, 31.8 per cent had only temporary licenses, and another 11 sales representatives received allegedly illegal commissions during a period in which they were not licensed by the company.

The insurer waived its right to an administrative hearing and agreed to a minimum 12-month suspension of its temporary licensing authority.

The consent order entered with the director of insurance further stipulated that all company sales representatives conducting business in Illinois will be properly and duly licensed, operating only within the scope of the licensed authority; all non-residents brokers will fully comply with the Illinois Insurance Code and related laws; a procedure to evaluate all claims will be instituted and maintained; and numerous claim files will be reopened, investigated, documented and, where warranted, additional payments made.

Director Mathias was complimentary of Roger Hahn, the department's chief examiner responsible for leading the investigation which concluded with the fine just announced.

Bridge data sought

A task force formed to find a way to make better use of four Mississippi River bridges must have detailed technical and financial information before any of the structures can become a part of the bi-state highway system, the task force chairman said Friday.

William J. Wilson, St. Louis director of streets, said an estimated $750,000 is needed to gather the necessary facts. He said the task force would ask the bi-state Congressional delegation to seek that amount in federal appropriations.

Wilson said the money is needed for detailed engineering studies of the bridge structures, including the underwater portion of piers; for preliminary designs to allow estimates to be made on the cost of connecting street networks with bridge approaches, and for assessments of the financial status of the bridges.

The information gathered eventually would allow measuring projected costs of repairing one or more of the bridges against the cost of a new bridge.

The bridges in question are the Martin Luther King, owned by East St. Louis; the Eads, owned by the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association; the MacArthur, owned by the City of St. Louis; and the McKinley, owned by Venice. All are toll bridges except the MacArthur.

All have "relatively light traffic loads" while the 10-year-old Poplar Street Bridge, connected directly with the Interstate highway system, is crowded, he said.

Members of the task force have indicated that, eventually, federal or state governments must be asked to take over ownership of all or some of the structures.

"Before we can ask any governmental unit to take over the bridges," Wilson said, "we must have a good idea of how much it will cost to repair and maintain them, and whether they can be made accessible enough to attract a significant amount of traffic. Thus we need detailed studies."

Two boys hit by car

Rodney Sanders, 5, and his brother, Michael Sanders, 9, were admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:58 p.m. Friday after they were struck by the auto of Eubie Cline, 30, of 2641 Madison Ave.

The boys reside at 1012 Iowa St., Madison. Cline said he was passing through a green light at 12th Street and Madison Avenue and could not stop when he saw the two boys in front of his auto.

Rodney suffered an abrasion to his head and Michael was treated for a cut to the back of his hand and abrasions to his back.

Plan before you plant!

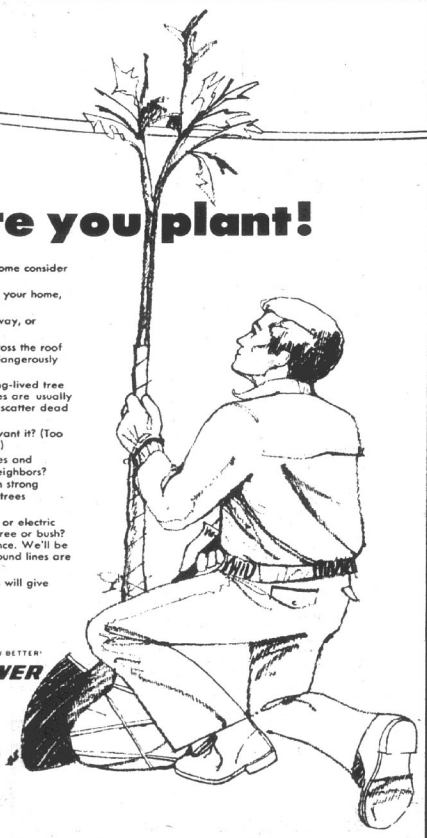

Before you plant a new tree around your home consider these points:

- Will the roots damage the foundation of your home, or damage the house sewer tile?
- Will branches brush cars using the driveway, or obstruct a driver's vision?
- As the tree grows will branches drag across the roof and drop leaves in the gutter, or come dangerously close to your house?
- Is the tree you have selected a clean, long-lived tree with strong branching? (Fast-growing trees are usually weak-wooded and short-lived trees that scatter dead limbs on your yard.)
- Will the tree provide shade where you want it? (Too much shade will weaken or kill out grass.)
- Will it soon grow into electric power wires and endanger service to yourself and your neighbors? (Over 90% of power failures occur when strong winds or steel storms send branches and trees crashing through power lines.)
- Will you damage your underground gas or electric service line if you dig a hole for a new tree or bush? Call your Illinois Power office for assistance. We'll be glad to let you know where our underground lines are located near your home.

Plan before you plant—and your new trees will give you many years of enjoyment.

See your nurseryman.

Venice and 232 in Eagle Park Acres.

Glaser had 179 in Venice and 245 at Eagle Park, and Hogan had 370 and eight.

Other candidates and the votes each received in Venice and Eagle Park, in that order, were: Williams, 313 and 30; Worley, 297 and three; Mrs. Arnold, 83 and 241, and Taylor, 238 and 15.

Cicio received 462 votes in Venice and 10 in Eagle Park while Mrs. Salmend had 7 in Venice and 239 in Eagle Park.

Stucke received 1,634 votes to be re-elected and Moore garnered 1,402 in gaining a new term in Granite City. Melton was elected with 1,352 to fill the board seat vacated by Harold Davis, who retired from the board to run successfully for supervisor of Nameoki Township.

Others on the District Nine ballot and the number of votes each collected were: Delton R. Groshaus, 2598 Spaulding Ave., 1,044 votes; Robert G. Douglas, Rural Route One, 781 votes; August E. "Gus" Loeffler Jr., Rural Route Two, 615 votes, and William L. Luchini, 30 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, 603.

There were 51 ballots that the judges ruled as spoiled.

Voters cast their ballots for school board candidates at 16 elementary schools. In numerical order, starting with precinct one, they were: McKinley, Lake, Washington, Logan, Emerson, Webster, Marshall, Niedringhaus, Frohardt, Maryville, Nameoki, Parkview, Mitchell, Stallings and Johnson schools.

The total number of votes counted for each candidate in each precinct, beginning with precinct one, follows:

Stucke 45, 42, 46, 25, 48, 68, 79, 246, 99, 42, 330, 153, 36 and 126.

Moore 33, 36, 47, 15, 43, 53, 73, 229, 231, 76, 45, 210, 152, 65, 21 and 59.

Melton 39, 15, 77, 37, 47, 41, 105, 254, 175, 69, 59, 186, 138, 36, 22 and 32.

Loeffler 26, 12, 15, 14, 21, 27, 24, 65, 51, 79, 24, 67, 26, 62, 17 and 85.

Luchini 18, 10, 11, 17, 22, 24, 64, 51, 98, 23, 90, 24, 81, 29 and 23.

The total vote in each precinct, starting with precinct one, was: 99, 72, 104, 55, 92, 108, 170, 434, 406, 233, 109, 423, 259, 232, 81 and 229.

Since Melton is considered a "rural" candidate, his election fulfills the minimum number of rural candidates on the board.

Davis was a rural candidate and his decision not to seek re-election made it necessary to elect at least one rural candidate.

Dymas tallied 668 votes, Eaves 561 and Johnson 531 in the close Madison election. Zeisset received 608 votes in his unopposed bid for the one-year board seat.

The outcome of the election remained uncertain until nearly 11 p.m. Saturday when Precinct Two at Harris School reported its tally, delivering the victory margin for Dymas.

In precinct two, Dymas tallied 402 votes to 149 for Johnson. That precinct overcame what had been a 382-266 lead for Johnson after the first three precincts had reported.

Votes for Madison Board of Education members were cast at four schools. Precinct one was Madison Junior High School, Precinct three Blair School and Precinct four Dunbar School.

Eaves received 256 votes in precinct one, 287 in precinct two, 28 in precinct three and 31 in precinct four.

Johnson received 219, 149, 94 and 69.

Dymas garnered 245 votes in precinct one, 402 in two, nine in precinct three and 12 in precinct four.

Zeisset totaled 284, 297, eight and 19.

A total of 1,226 votes was cast in the Madison election — 445 at precinct one, 575 at precinct two, 113 at precinct three and 93 at precinct four.

Contract

both negotiated intensely to reach mutually-acceptable contract terms.

Abel called the settlement a major step toward the lifetime security objective. He described the new pact as non-inflationary.

Initial opposition among presidents of locals was viewed as a warning of some dissatisfaction with the no-strike policy.

McBride minimized the rejection, pointing out that many pensioners had already left to spend the Easter holiday at home. The absentees would have voted favorably, he asserted.

Monthly pension payments will rise by $2.50 over the life of the three-year contract for every year of service by an individual.

Steelworkers will be able to retire with pensions after 20 years of service with any combination of age and service totaling 65 years, it was indicated.

There will be twice-a-year wage increments over the next three years—totaling 40 cents hourly in the first year and 20 cents an hour in each of the second and third years.

Current wages average $8.08 an hour nationally, including overtime, and median pay is $5.50 not counting incentive and overtime bonuses. Total hourly employment costs are $12.60.

A United Steelworkers attorney estimated that the new contract raises wages, incentives and cost-of-living increments ten per cent yearly, not including lifetime benefits.

Jack A. Meyer of the U.S. Council on Wage and Price Stability said it will review a new steel contract but that it appears to be within what the earlier administration regards as an acceptable range.

In announcing an anti-inflation program later this month, the President is expected to urge labor and management to consult voluntarily with the federal government on the potential for an inflationary impact of wage and price decisions.

J. Bruce Johnston, a U.S. Steel Corp. and the industry's chief negotiator, said after the contract approval that "ultimately, prices must cover costs."

The $40,000 covered by the new agreement was the ten biggest steel corporations. It later may be extended to 180,000 at other steel firms.

Abel had called for "a job for life with a decent, respectable income for life." He considers the agreement partial achievement of that goal, and further progress toward that concept likely in the future.

distasteful places. They come in like locusts.

Of course, there are people who do talk skip. You hear a lot of code names and numbers.

People being people, they love to see how far they can "get out" (talk).

But if you've a mind to do it, just remember: It's against the rules.

If you are new to CB, you may have heard some skip in there from time to time.

I sure hope you liked it, because it's going to get better.

Skip rolls better in the late spring and all summer.

There's been a lot of talk about sun spots causing the "skips" to run amok.

We're going into a new sun spot cycle where conditions will cause skip to run more and more.

Some people fear that CB will become useless because of the interference. But, fear not, all is not lost.

Experts say that although the skip conditions will increase in the next two to five years, the periods of bad interference will last only about 30 minutes a day and a few hours a day in the winter at it's worst.

So, if you're out there in a mobile and you hear the "famous ones" from Tacoma, Los Angeles, Calif., or Armadillo Plains, Tex., hang up your mike, fellows. You're not gonna get out until they do.

Catch ya later, the Lil Squaw, we're out.

dominant governmental coordinating, planning and policy-setting agencies in this region.

Mayor Sasyk continues as a board member of the Health Systems Agency of the St. Louis metropolitan area and of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

He is president of the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors.

He has told the Press-Record, "Our administration is now running for a third term under my leadership. We feel proud of the accomplishments that we have made in the past seven years."

(1) "All of our city streets have been blacktopped."

(2) "All of our city alleys should be blacktopped by late summer or early fall of this year."

(3) "The illumination of all of our city's intersection street lights has been increased by four times its previous level."

(4) "We have installed burglar alarms in all of our city's businesses, schools and churches that have requested them."

(5) "We are in the process of installing alarm systems in all of the senior citizens' homes in the City of Madison."

(6) "Collinsville Avenue has been paved at no cost to our taxpayers."

"Currently, there are two industrial plants that have expressed an interest in locating in or adjacent to our industrial park."

"We feel that with the addition of these two plants, our economy will pick up and our employment level will decrease."

"We have also initiated a program to revitalize our city's business community."

"Many of our business merchants are willing to improve their storefronts with an Alpine look in an effort to improve our business area and attract more customers into our city."

"Our city's sales tax has risen from $106,350 in 1972 to $136,600 in 1976."

"We feel this is quite an accomplishment for a city of our size."

"In the midst of ever-increasing inflation, we have striven to continue providing our citizens with the best possible services we can provide and maintain a stable tax rate."

Mayor Sasyk continued, "Although we feel proud of the accomplishments we have made in the past, we are now looking with optimism to our city's future."

"We plan to demolish one or more buildings in our downtown area and replace these structures with a mini shopping center and possible an outside walking mall."

"We will shortly initiate a program to renovate and improve the homes of some of our city's elderly and low-income residents."

"We plan to provide more services for our city's elderly residents and we will initiate new, innovative concepts in our street and police departments."

"I am a member of the Madison Lions Club, Madison-Army's American Legion and Moose Clubs, to name a few."

"We feel our city government has been very efficient, has acted with unquestionable integrity, and has and will continue to work toward a responsible relationship with our citizens."

Mayor Sasyk is a native and lifelong resident of Madison, where he attended school.

In 1948-52 he served as a justice of the peace, and during the 1960s was president of the Madison Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

A close associate of the late Mayor Stephen Maeras, Sasyk has been active in real estate development and was the developer of the Arlington Heights residential subdivision.

"Since I returned to Madison approximately 2½ years ago to be closer to my work for the family corporations, my interest in local politics has raised many questions of how our money is being spent and how, if Madison has benefited with the present city officials."

"Why have some businesses applied for these alarm systems two years ago and have never received them? Why do couples have these alarm systems, who aren't even senior citizens?"

"Why is motor fuel tax (MFT) money being used to blanket the streets and we still have to borrow money from a bank?"

"How can MFT money put in streets in the Maeras Industrial Park, and the City of Madison turn around and sell that property?"

"Why are the policemen supposedly on duty in the taverns—socializing, when they should be on active patrol they're being paid?"

"The eyeglasses obtained for the elderly were funded by township money, not money allocated by the city."

"Some senior citizens are afraid to put signs opposing the present city officials in their yards because they have not as yet received their glasses."

"I'm happy to see the tennis courts behind the Recreation Center. At least the swimming pool problem is solved. But being an avid tennis player for the past five years, I can't understand why the courts aren't used too much."

Spot-prime all newly patched spots, just like new plaster walls.

Next, clean the surface. A dry rag or mop will remove dust and some dirt. Wash with a household cleaner, such as trisodium phosphate (available at paint stores), to remove stubborn dirt or grease.

Wash these with a stronger solution of household cleaner, turpentine or mineral spirits. In addition to washing, dull a glossy surface with fine sandpaper or steel wool so new paint will stick. Wipe off the dust before painting.

Remember, money-wasting paint failures are often due to poorly prepared surfaces.

$1,205 jewelry theft in home

Mrs. G. H. Sternberg, 2622 Cleveland Blvd., reported at 3 p.m. Friday that burglars entered her home and took jewelry valued at $1,205 from the top of a dresser in a bedroom.

There were no signs of forced entry. Items taken included a Bahama $50 gold piece in a gold frame on a chain, diamond on a gold chain, gold charm with two diamonds, garnet heart, a charm key, a malachite and gold pendant and gold chain and a pair of malachite ear drops.

On the basis of earlier budget actions by the Venice Town Board, the total township appropriation, including that for road purposes, was $238,592, a reduction of $4,758 below last year's total of $243,347.

The budget to be presented to the lower meetings tomorrow will total $208,592, or $34,755 less than last year's overall appropriation.

Granite City township electors will meet in their annual session at 7 p.m. in the courtroom on the third floor of the City Hall.

Among business on that agenda will be presentation of an annual report of Supervisor Nelson Hagauer. According to a report which was presented last week to city Aldermen who also make up the Town Board, expenditures in the town fund during the fiscal year March 1, 1976, to Feb. 28, 1977, totaled $215,550, leaving a balance of $15,086 in the town fund as of Feb. 28 this year.

Total expenditures out of the general assistance fund during the fiscal year amounted to $234,319, the report showed. This left a fund balance of $634 at the end of the fiscal year, but the fund still had unpaid obligations of $41,379. The report shows total payments to the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund of $30,610.

Chouteau Township residents will attend an annual town meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Sun & Fun Beach Resort, West Chatham of Rocks Road.

Residents of Nameoki Township will hold their annual meeting at the Nameoki Town Hall, 1250 Highway 162, at 7 p.m.

Cocaine possession ban upheld by judge

Attorney General William J. Scott's Criminal Justice Division prevailed in Sangamon County Circuit Court on Thursday, arguing against a prisoner's petition for release. The petition was based on another judge's controversial "cocaine" ruling.

The prisoner, La Don D. Jones (Donnie Jones) of Springfield is currently held at the Vienna Correctional Institution. He was sentenced to 1½ to 4½ years on Sept. 7, 1976, following a guilty plea to a charge of possessing less than 30 grams of cocaine.

In seeking his release, Jones' petition cited a ruling by Sangamon County Circuit Court Judge George Coutrakon March 17, 1977, which held that the Illinois statute relating to possession of cocaine was unconstitutional.

Jones' writ of habeas corpus alleged that he was being illegally restrained because he had "pleaded guilty to a non-existent crime."

Scott's office countered with the ruling of a higher court, the Third District Appellate Court, which held two weeks after Judge Coutrakon's decision that the cocaine statute is constitutional.

In denying Jones' writ, Sangamon County Circuit Court Judge Harvey Beam took note of the Appellate Court's position on the cocaine statute, ruling that nothing had transpired since Jones' guilty plea to affect his incarceration.

The Sangamon County state's attorney's office has indicated it will seek a re-hearing on Judge Coutrakon's "cocaine decision."

Urban League workshop

The Madison-St. Clair Counties Urban League is sponsoring an informational workshop designed to identify linkages between federal, state and private organizations, as such linkages relate to the implementation of the President's economic stimulus legislation.

The workshop will enable participants to better understand and participate in the implementation of the public works projects, since such projects are to increase employment, and therefore stimulate the economy.

Organizations representing construction workers, construction contractors, community organization, and labor unions are invited to participate.

Dr. Emil Jason, Urban League board program chairman, and Harvey Riley, director of Urban League Apprenticeship Outreach Project, will coordinate the seminar. Representatives of state and federal agencies involved in the implementation of the public works legislation will be in attendance to explain the program.

Omer Dauplaise, representative of the U.S. Department of Commerce, the federal agency responsible for the overall implementation of the bill, will be the guest speaker.

The workshop will be held Thursday, April 28, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville on Route 157 at I-55-70.

Amy Hartman state horticulture entrant

Three Madison County 4-H'ers have been selected to participate in the state horticulture contest. They are: Jean Bress, Troy; Amy Hartman, Granite City; and Jean Lindsay, Troy.

The girls will compete in Urbana on June 28. Miss Bress will represent Madison County with her speech, titled "The Strawberry Story."

Miss Hartman and Miss Lindsay will compete in the demonstration categories. Miss Hartman will present her demonstration in the area of "production," which is entitled "Starting Plants from Runners."

A "use" demonstration will be presented by Miss Lindsay, entitled "Hawaiian Delight."

Other 4-H'ers participating in the county contest and receiving "A's" were Harriet Barth, Highland, and Sherri Bean, Troy. Judges for the contest were Mrs. S. W. Moran, Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. Midas Cadwallader, members of the Edwardsville Garden Club.

Three other members of the Edwardsville Garden Club taught a workshop for 4-H'ers attending the horticulture event. Mrs. Levi Miller of Glen Carbon taught a session on flower gardening, followed by a flower arranging demonstration by Judy Iselhardt of Edwardsville. Mrs. Homer Correll, also of Edwardsville, conducted the concluding session on indoor gardening.

Horticulture is just one of many project areas in the 4-H program, which is coordinated by the Madison County Cooperative Extension Service, 656-4862.

Law and Order Week opens May 9

The Law and Order committee of Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 met last week and proclaimed Law and Order Week for May 9 through May 15.

For the past seven years the local organization has designated one week in May as Law and Order Week, according to Dave Whitsell, chairman.

During this week, Elks Lodge, in cooperation with Quad-City mayors, attempt to make the community award of the outstanding performance of the local police departments and to honor them for their effort and achievements in law enforcement, the chairman added.

Mining subsidence insurance advancing

The House Environment, Energy and Natural Resources Committee on Thursday approved mine subsidence insurance legislation jointly sponsored by State Representatives Celeste Stiehl (R-Belleview) and Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia).

"I am extremely pleased that a bi-partisan agreement was reached on this bill," Rep. Stiehl said "and I feel confident that we've overcome the last major obstacles blocking implementation of this desperately needed program."

Rep. Flinn, a Granite City Steel employee and chairman of the House Environment,

Energy and Natural Resources Committee, said the bill (H.B. 158) in its amended form still mandates insurance companies to include subsidence in all fire and extended coverage policies, but gives property owners the option to reject this protection.

The director of the Illinois Department of Insurance has the authority to designate which counties will be eligible for this coverage.

"There are people throughout Illinois who do not, and probably never will, experience subsidence damage," he said, "and it doesn't seem quite right to tell them that they must carry this coverage. This bill will let individual property owners make the final decision about the well-being of their homes and businesses."

The legislation also was altered to allow for a state program subsidy.

Emphasizing that revenues generated from policy rates would be sufficient for the program to operate without this assistance, both representatives termed this action as "precautionary foresight."

"If the state ever did decide to provide funds to this program, policy rates could be lowered," Rep. Flinn said, "and we do not want to eliminate that possibility."

Claims, Rep. Stiehl added, would still be covered by an existing state reinsurance facility (the Industry Placement Facility).

The program would be administered by an association composed of insurance representatives who propose rules, regulations and rates to the director of the Illinois Department of Insurance for approval.

"I became involved in the search for an answer to the subsidence dilemma more than a year ago and I now believe that the nightmare for Central and Southern Illinois property owners will soon end," she concluded.

"We have initiated the impetus for this protection to materialize, and the urgency of our need cannot be ignored by members of either political party in the House and Senate."

Subsidence has caused some homes and buildings to be severely damaged when former mine area surfaces collapse.

Add honor, responsibilities for Gen. Andrew Goodpaster

"Duty... honor... country..." General Andrew Jackson Goodpaster, a native Granite Cityan, well exemplifies the highest ideals of this nation's armed forces and thus is an excellent choice to head the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Prior to his retirement two years ago from a long and active Army career, the Granite City High School graduate successfully handled heavy responsibilities, including service as supreme commander of United States forces in Europe and of North Atlantic Treaty Organization military, air and naval units.

Selection of a retired officer as commander of West Point is unprecedented but logical in view of the loss of confidence by the government, citizen, Army personnel and cadets in the academy's ability to set and implement appropriate standards of conduct.

Gen. Goodpaster will return to his four-star status after serving in the three-star (lieutenant general) rank prescribed for West Point commanders. He graduated from the academy in 1939.

A highly-decorated officer with unusually broad experience at various levels of this nation's defense establishment, including close association with several U. S. presidents in positions requiring both technical expertise and mature judgment, Gen. Goodpaster is uniquely equipped to lead the military academy to a new level of effectiveness.

As Defense Secretary Harold Brown said in announcing the selection, "Gen. Goodpaster promises the unique blend of military and educational background and experience deemed necessary for the superintendency and reflects the best qualified individual available to the Army at this time."

New pact improves pay, job security at Granite City Steel

Granite City Steel has been described as the place of employment of the highest-paid steelworkers anywhere, and a new contract approved Saturday will further improve wages and benefits here by up to ten per cent annually over the next three years.

Local issues remain to be resolved in bargaining prior to Aug. 8, but the pattern has been set for nationwide pay hikes, with continued provision for cost-of-living rises and progress toward an objective of "lifetime work and income" for veteran workers.

Negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America and the ten largest steelmakers, including the National Steel Corporation, moved close to an agreement prior to the initial bargaining deadline of Thursday midnight. They completed the details Friday, followed by ratification Saturday in voting by the presidents of Steelworkers locals.

Both sides appear to be relieved that binding arbitration was avoided and that they had a direct voice in all aspects of the compromise pact.

Avoidance of a nationwide strike is viewed as helpful in preventing further inroads by foreign steel producers, although the overall cost of the new contract will have some effect on the price of American-produced steel. Whether specific plants will be struck this summer will depend on how rapidly local-level issues can be resolved.

Concern that bureaus' edicts are reaching epidemic stage

Press-Record Washington Bureau — In a waggish moment, Rep. Andrew Jacobs of Indiana introduced a bill in Congress to permit the sale of saccharin with a warning label that it might be dangerous to the health of rats. He says his bill is for the "un-crazing" of federal regulations.

The point he's making is that banning use of saccharin as an artificial sweetener seems absurd when the case against it is based on the appearance of tumors in rats fed large quantities of it in a Canadian laboratory experiment.

Even the Food and Drug Administration concedes that a human being would have to drink 800 cans of diet soda a day for a lifetime to ingest an equivalent amount of saccharin.

We would hesitate to second-guess any scientist working on cancer research. But lacking any evidence of a direct link between saccharin and cancer in humans, the Canadian research is a slim reed to support a total ban on saccharin.

The complaints from the diet food industry, and from people who use saccharin as a sugar-substitute for health reasons or dieting, are justified.

Congressman Jacobs may have been making a bigger point than he intended with his legislative spoof.

Since he did not join Congress until 1964, he can plead innocent to passage of the 1958 law which is mandating the FDA ban on saccharin.

It requires the agency to ban any substance found to induce cancer in man or animals — period. The FDA is given no discretionary power to weigh risks against benefits in cases like that of saccharin.

But how many other "crazy" regulations have Congressmen Jacobs and his colleagues been responsible for, regardless of when they went to Washington?

We'd guess that those who date back to 1958 felt proud of their amendment adding an anti-cancer clause to the Food-Drug and Cosmetic Act. Congressmen and senators point with pride to all the laws they've been passing to protect the public health, the environment and the consumer.

What should inspire no pride, however, is the wave of resentment against bureaucratic edicts and over-regulation which has been a consequence of some of this well-meaning legislation.

Government printing presses publishing more regulations than members of the President's Cabinet have time to read are cures of an over-protected government.

The feeling that high-handed federal bureaucrats are running our lives was exploited in last year's election campaigns — the "anti-Washington" theme.

But federal bureaus get their power from acts of Congress, very often from oversimplified statement of goals, purposes and policies like that now coming home to roost with the ban on saccharin.

This tempest in a pop-bottle over an artificial sweetener is likely to lead to amendment of the 1958 law to give the FDA more leeway in controlling substances suspected of a link with cancer. Fine, but Congressman Jacobs should hardly be un-crazy the federal government.

False ID cards called a growing menace

By CLARENCE M. KELLY

Director Federal Bureau of Investigation

The use of false documents for illegal purposes — and as a means to avoid detection or elude apprehension — has long frustrated effective law enforcement at all levels of government and led to enormous losses by the public.

Indeed, the relative ease with which false identifying documents may be obtained and the increasing potential for their criminal exploitation urgently call for remedial action.

In November 1976, the Federal Advisory Committee of Justice, after an extensive 18-month study, released the results of its efforts in a detailed and comprehensive report which impressively states the magnitude of this type of criminal activity and suggests some feasible remedies.

The study persuasively reveals this problem to be considerably more than an aggravating impediment to police efficiency and morale — it is a growing menace of formidable dimensions in our society.

As a result of its study, the committee determined that approximately 80 per cent of the hard narcotics entering the United States is smuggled with the aid of false documents.

Illegal immigration, similarly aided, creates for our society an estimated $12 billion annual tax burden.

Frauds against business involving false identification — which include check, credit card and securities frauds — cost the public $1 billion yearly.

And losses attributable to frauds against government involving welfare, Social Security, food stamp programs and the like appear to run into billions of dollars.

It is, of course, well established that escaped prisoners and other dangerous individuals always obtain false identification to avoid capture.

Contributing to this challenging problem are a number of factors.

The availability of sophisticated printing and duplicating equipment, together with inadequate laws controlling the traffic in fraudulent documents, has greatly facilitated the production and misuse of bogus papers.

Additionally — in our complex, mobile and transient society — financial transactions based on individual acquaintanceship and trust are becoming less commonplace.

Instead, modern business practices are becoming depersonalized, involving the services of many independent parties who are frequently unknown to one another.

As a result, documentation has become a critical part of even the most elementary transactions.

We have in many ways, as the report states, become a "paper" society.

Clearly central to the problem of document falsification is the birth certificate.

The counterfeit certificate of a deceased infant frequently provides the keystone of false identity for the criminal.

On the basis of this certificate, a wide variety of supporting documentation, such as credit cards, driver's licenses, passports and visas, personal checks and Social Security cards, is obtained, and the alias reinforced.

The committee has offered a number of helpful recommendations designed to curb existing abuses in this problem area and to better protect society from related offenses.

Among these are the correlation of birth and death certificates on an interstate basis to more effectively counter the assumption of a deceased person's identity; the creation of minimum federal standards to tighten the application procedures for such vital documents as birth certificates and driver's licenses; and the establishment of stronger state and federal penalties for false identification crimes.

Also recommended are the creation of stringent, uniform standards for the identification of public aid and Social Security applicants; provisions for directly depositing such benefits to the recipient's bank account; and utilization of electronic transfer systems for funds as an effective safeguard against certain business crimes.

This critical problem of false identification can, through the purposeful efforts of the law enforcement community, private industry and a concerned public, be effectively combated.

Toward this end, many promising remedies have been suggested and should be given all possible attention in a determined attempt to meet this challenge.

Big volume heroin trade

The industry that outsells 489 of the 500 top American corporations killed 1,700 citizens last year. The product is heroin.

Turkish production of the drug is under strict government control, and diplomatic pressures finally dried up the "French connection." Yet, the supply of heroin on the street is as plentiful as ever, and the suppliers are profiting to the tune of $10 billion annually.

To find out who the new drug traffickers are and how they operate, the Reader's Digest interviewed dozens of narcotics intelligence officials here and abroad. Its findings in the April issue reveal that the suppliers are a diverse group: the new Mexican connection, secret societies in Asia and organized crime in the U.S.

The Drug Enforcement Administration estimates "there are six separate organizations that control production and smuggling of ten tons of pure heroin into the United States from Mexico each year."

Among many Asian enterprises, several large secret societies ship drugs to the United States.

Called by the "godfather" of Durango, Mex., a family control the bulk of the Mexican output of heroin, about $12 million worth, it is contended.

There appears to be a limitless supply of cousins and brothers-in-law, since 1974, more than 75 with the same last name have been arrested in the U.S., mostly on drug charges. But the supply keeps coming in. DEA officials say the family "controls a major part of the lucrative Chicago market and is expanding to Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Miami, San Juan and Los Angeles."

One of the largest of the Asian suppliers is known as the 14-K society, author Nathan Adams alleges. It is a worldwide group with as many as 8,000 hard-core members, and its market is both Southern California and New York.

As organized crime moves in to retrieve its lost prestige in the drug business, it is reported that an East Coast family has already made contact with 14-K as well as with other Asian suppliers.

The demand exists — there are more than a half-million full-time addicts in the United States — and suppliers are meeting it, to their great profit. Several factors, Adams asserts, reduce the risk to drug traffickers as they go about their illegal business.

Federal magistrates are lenient with drug charges, granting bail despite the fact the offender can continue playing his trade while waiting trial, and suspending sentences.

The DEA has had three agency heads in as many years, and front-line morale is low. Budget cuts and privacy-act restrictions have hampered internal Revenue Service scrutiny of illegal profits.

The Digest calls for three steps to be taken by the present Administration which "could help dispel the permissive atmosphere" in which drug dealers now operate.

"Congress must clarify the criteria under which major traffickers should be awarded bail," it says.

Federal magistrates should be given alternative criteria (other than the offender's retuning for trial) in obnoxious cases, and they need also to receive "special training to recognize and deal more stringently with major traffickers who tend to take advantage of leniency."

Finally, the DEA needs top-level guidance from the White House to stabilize and strengthen the agency, it is asserted. In short, drug suppliers must hear a clear call from the government that heroin traffic will not be tolerated here.

Initiative power for Illinoisans?

By STATE REP. HAROLD D. BYERS (Democrat, Highland)

I am proposing a constitutional amendment that would give Illinois citizens the power of initiative.

I and Rep. Lee Daniels (R-Elimhurst), chief co-sponsors, are being joined by 22 House members in a coordinated effort to seek General Assembly approval.

Senator Vince DeMuzio (D-Carlinville) will introduce similar legislation in the Senate.

An initiative would make it possible for citizens to take direct action when the legislature fails to respond.

Twenty-one states have this provision in their constitutions, including Missouri, Michigan and Ohio in the Midwest.

It is my goal that the Illinois General Assembly will also approve this for Illinois citizens.

This form of "direct democracy" has proven that voters exercise common sense and good judgment with respect to initiative proposals.

For an issue to be placed on a referendum ballot, the proposed amendment would require eight percent of the registered voters in the state to sign a petition during a 94-month period preceding a primary or general election.

A proposal, approved by a majority of those voting on the issue, would become law. It could be repealed by a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly.

It is my hope that all the citizens of Illinois will show their strong support by urging their legislators to support this proposal.

A number of areas in which citizens might choose to use the initiative approach if the legislature has not acted.

These areas include: Consumer bills such as "life-line," generic drugs, bottle mail, and the sale of meat after 6 p.m.

Property tax reform.

No-fault insurance.

Open primary.

Sunset laws.

Merit selection of judges.

The proposed constitutional amendment would require passage by both the House and Senate before being submitted to Illinois voters for approval.

WELCOME MISTER VANCE. WE HOPE TO MAKING GREAT PROGRESS ON CRIME LIMITATION TALKS.

WE WILL DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO END THIS TERRIBLE CRIME RAGE...

TRUST ME.

Says victors lack support in Mitchell

To the Editor: I think at this time Walter Sparks woke up. It is plain to see that Mitchell area voters do not want his party in office.

The Chouteau Citizens Party got more votes in the four combined precincts of Mitchell than did the Progressive Party, but lost in Hartford and South Roxana. This caused them to lose the election.

These towns are incorporated and have their own city government and road departments. They could care less about the problems and the people of the Mitchell area. James Estes has done an excellent job on our roads. Our roads were in terrible condition before he was highway commissioner.

The people who live on roads laid out by the Chouteau highway commissioner clearly elected Estes but people in South Roxana and Hartford before he was highway commissioner were dictated to all of the township who the Chouteau highway commissioner will be. Morris Miles would have made an excellent supervisor. He and the Chouteau Citizens Party would have been for all the people of Chouteau Township, not just a few.

They would have made sure the people had a chance to vote on any special taxes — taxes laid on people's shoulders that some will not be able to afford. So, it is time the present officials woke up. The majority of Mitchell area voters do not want these people in office.

Punishment often doesn't fit the crime

To the Editor:

Speaking of justice, 14 witnesses have testified that an individual was the perpetrator and aggressor of a fight at a restaurant, and yet the other person was charged with assault and battery.

And the great "justice" of our court system allows persons charged in a homicidal death to plea bargain with the Madison County state's attorney's office to receive a lesser charge than the original charge, charged with murder.

Judge Harrison sentenced them to five year's probation and yet, on the same day, sent a man to prison for possession of a controlled substance (containing heroin).

Is this justice or a big joke?

Clean-up task success again in '77

On March 19, Lincoln Place conducted another clean-up campaign which proved, as usual, to be quite successful.

I and others who participated feel sincere appreciation to Mayor Paul Schuler, Superintendent of Streets, Lionel Portell and our City Council for allowing us the use of city equipment to conduct this project.

Our clean-up campaign did not end until 6 o'clock on that Saturday evening.

Jim Pickett, Carl Wroten, Albert Valencia, Roger Northland, Boris Dineff and Andy Basarich were our truck drivers.

Mrs. Sue Smith and her daughter, Robin, barbecued pork steaks for our work crew. Simon Bogosian as usual, allowed the use of his facilities and provided soda for the crew.

Approximately 32 boys participated in this year's clean-up. All of our youngsters worked long and hard. Many of them have participated in all of the clean-ups we have had in the past.

JAKE VARADIAN

Voting over — time for all to work together

To the Editor:

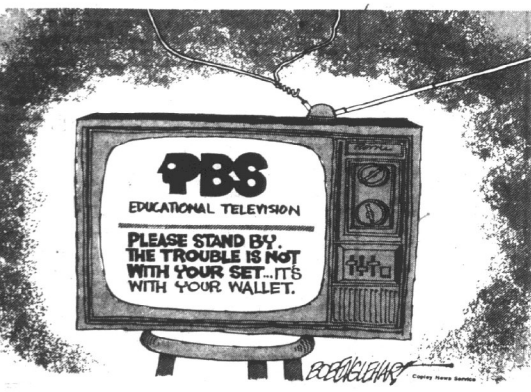

I have been thanking all those who helped me during my (City Council) campaign.

Now, I would encourage all of us to make our community an even better place to live by shouldering the wheel of progress together.

We should always place preferences for political offices aside the day after an election and work together.

In Memoriam 33
In Loving Memory of
MAGGIE BROADWAY
April 10, 1971
Just a line of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory, fond and true,
Just a token of love's devotion,
That my heart still longs for you.
The years of her life were numbered,
When the messenger whispered low,
"The Master has come and called for thee,
So answered: "I am ready to go."

In Loving Memory of
GEORGE H. MERTZ
April 10, 1975
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger everyday.
Remembrance keeps him dear.
Sadly missed by
Wife, Son, Daughter and Families
33 4 11
In loving memory of our mother
MARY VASIOFF April 15, 1969.
Who shared our joys and cheered when sad.
The greatest friend we ever had.
For there's no other could take the place of our dear mother.
Sadly missed by—
HUSBAND and CHILDREN
33 4 11
In loving memory of CHARLES W. ECKERT, April 11, 1966.
God knows how much we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade.
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where he is laid.
Mother and Stepfather—
MAE and CHARLES EBERSOLDT

In loving memory of GRACE BURNS, April 11, 1966.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain.
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days.
When we were all together.
There's a link death cannot sever.
Love and remembrance last forever.
Sadly missed by—
FAMILY and FRIENDS
